IMPORTANT – PLEASE READ FIRST

U.S. Department of Education Grants.gov Submission Procedures and Tips for Applicants

Please note that the Grants.gov site works differently than the U.S. Department of Education's (Department) e-Application system. To facilitate your use of Grants.gov, this document includes important submission procedures you need to be aware of to ensure your application is received in a timely manner and accepted by the Department of Education.

- 1) REGISTER EARLY – Grants.gov registration is a one-time process that may take five or more days to complete. You may begin working on your application while completing the registration process, but you cannot submit an application until all of the Get Started steps are complete. For detailed information on the Get Started Steps, please go to:
<http://www.grants.gov/GetStarted>.
- 2) SUBMIT EARLY – We strongly recommend that you do not wait until the last day to submit your application. Grants.gov will put a date/time stamp on your application and then process it after it is fully uploaded. The time it takes to upload an application will vary depending on a number of factors including the size of the application and the speed of your Internet connection, and the time it takes Grants.gov to process the application will vary as well. If Grants.gov rejects your application (see step three below), you will need to resubmit successfully before 4:30 pm on the deadline date.

Note: To submit successfully, you must provide the DUNS number on your application that was used when your organization registered with the CCR (Central Contractor Registry).

- 3) VERIFY SUBMISSION IS OK – You will want to verify that Grants.gov and the Department receive your Grants.gov submission timely and that it was validated successfully. To see the date/time your application was received, login to Grants.gov and click on the Check Application Status link. For a successful submission, the date/time received should be earlier than 4:30 p.m. on the deadline date, AND the application status should be: Validated, Received by Agency, or Agency Tracking Number Assigned.

If the date/time received is later than 4:30 p.m. Washington, D.C. time, on the closing date, your application is late. If your application has a status of "Received" it is still awaiting validation by Grants.gov. Once validation is complete, the status will either change to "Validated" or "Rejected with Errors." If the status is "Rejected with Errors," your application has not been received successfully. Some of the reasons Grants.gov may reject an application can be found on the Grants.gov site:

<http://www.grants.gov/assets/ApplicationErrorTips.doc>. If you discover your application is late or has been rejected, please see the instructions below. Note: You will receive a series of confirmations both online and via e-mail about the status of your application. Please do not rely solely on e-mail to confirm whether your application has been received timely and validated successfully.

Submission Problems – What should you do?

If you have problems submitting to Grants.gov before the closing date, please contact Grants.gov Customer Support at 1-800-518-4726 or use the customer support available on the Web site: <http://www.grants.gov/CustomerSupport>.

If electronic submission is optional and you have problems that you are unable to resolve before the deadline date and time for electronic applications, please follow the transmittal instructions for hard copy applications in the Federal Register notice and get a hard copy application postmarked by midnight on the deadline date.

If electronic submission is required, you must submit an electronic application before 4:30 p.m., unless you follow the procedures in the Federal Register notice and qualify for one of the exceptions to the electronic submission requirement and submit, no later than two weeks before the application deadline date, a written statement to the Department that you qualify for one of these exceptions. (See the Federal Register notice for detailed instructions.)

Helpful Hints When Working with Grants.gov

Please note, once you download an application from Grants.gov, you will be working offline and saving data on your computer. Please be sure to note where you are saving the Grants.gov file on your computer. You will need to logon to Grants.gov to upload and submit the application. (This is different from e-Application, where you are working online and saving data to the Department's database.) You must provide on your application the DUNS number that was used when your organization registered with the CCR.

Please go to <http://www.grants.gov/ForApplicants> for help with Grants.gov and click on the links in the lower right corner of the screen under Applicant Tips and Tools. For additional tips related to submitting grant applications, please refer to the Grants.gov Submit Application Tips found on the Grants.gov homepage <http://www.grants.gov>.

Dial-Up Internet Connections

When using a dial up connection to upload and submit your application, it can take significantly longer than when you are connected to the Internet with a high-speed connection, e.g. cable modem/DSL/T1. While times will vary depending upon the size of your application, it can take a few minutes to a few hours to complete your grant submission using a dial up connection. If you do not have access to a high-speed connection and electronic submission is required, you may want to consider following the instructions in the Federal Register notice to obtain an exception to the electronic submission requirement no later than two weeks before the application deadline date. (See the Federal Register notice for detailed instructions.)

MAC Users

If you do not have a Windows operating System, you will need to use a Windows Emulation program to submit an application using Grants.gov. For additional information, review the PureEdge Support for Macintosh white paper published by Pure Edge:

http://www.grants.gov/GrantsGov_UST_Grantee/!SSL!/WebHelp/MacSupportforPureEdge.pdf, and/or contact Grants.gov Customer Support

(<http://www.grants.gov/CustomerSupport>) for more information. If you do not have a Windows emulation program and electronic submission is required, please follow instructions in the Federal Register notice to obtain an exception to the electronic submission requirement no later than two weeks before the application deadline date. (See the Federal Register notice for detailed instructions.)

February 1, 2006

Dear Applicant:

Thank you for your interest in the Transition to Teaching program. Your interest to apply for a grant under this program comes at a critical time in our national effort to ensure that talented and caring teachers fill every classroom and all children have the opportunity to achieve to high standards.

By the end of the 2005-06 school year, Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, as reauthorized by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001, requires that all teachers of core academic subjects be highly qualified. The Transition to Teaching program is designed to address this challenge by helping high-need schools operated by high-need local educational agencies (LEAs) secure and retain the highly qualified teachers that students in those schools need to help them achieve to high academic standards. It does so by encouraging the development and expansion of alternative pathways to teacher certification, and by supporting national, state, and local programs that make use of these alternative pathways to recruit, hire, and retain highly qualified teachers.

Through the Transition to Teaching program the Department will provide grants to support the development and expansion of alternative routes to certification that recruit, train, place, and retain highly qualified individuals into K-12 teaching positions in high-need schools in high-need LEAs. The groups targeted by the program to become teachers are: (1) highly qualified mid-career professionals; (2) highly qualified paraprofessionals; and (3) recent college graduates who have not completed a teacher preparation program. Eligible grant applicants are: State educational agencies (SEAs); local educational agencies (LEAs); for-profit and nonprofit organizations that have a proven record of effectively recruiting and retaining highly qualified teachers, in partnership with high-need LEAs or SEAs; institutions of higher education, in partnership with high-need LEAs or SEAs; regional consortia of SEAs; or consortia of high-need LEAs. In the Fiscal Year 2006 competition for grants, competitive priority points will be awarded to 1) a partnership or a consortium that includes a high-need SEA or LEA, 2) an SEA or consortium of SEAs that propose to work with a high-need LEA or consortium of high-need LEAs to create or expand, and then implement alternative pathways to teacher certification, and 3) to streamline teacher hiring systems, timelines, and processes. The FY 2006 competition also includes an invitational priority that focuses on the recruitment and retention of teachers of mathematics or science at the high school level. No additional points are provided for an invitational priority. Eligible applicants may apply for an award for up to five years.

The Department has established separate funding categories for projects of different scope. These categories are: (1) national/regional projects (84.350C), that serve eligible high-need LEAs in more than one state; (2) statewide projects (84.350B), that serve eligible high-need LEAs statewide or in more than one area of a state; and (3) local projects (84.350A), that serve one eligible high-need LEA or two or more eligible high-need LEAs in close proximity to one another. While the same requirements and selection criteria apply to all applications, it is important to indicate the application pool in which you desire to have your application reviewed.

The application package contains all the forms and instructions that applicants will need to apply for an FY 2006 Transition to Teaching grant. Please review the entire application package carefully before preparing and submitting your application. Note that all applications must be submitted using grants.gov for which you must register prior to submitting your application.

If you desire further information concerning this program or the application process, please contact Thelma Leenhouts, by writing to her at the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Innovation and Improvement, Teacher Quality Programs, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Room 4W302, Washington, DC, 20202-5960, via phone at 202-260-0223, or by e-mail at Transitiontoteaching@ed.gov.

Again, thank you for your interest in the Transition to Teaching program and your commitment to helping American schools recruit and retain talented and qualified teachers to ensure that all of our students achieve to high standards and that No Child is Left Behind.

Sincerely,

Peggi Zelinko
Director
Teacher Quality Programs

I. Funding Opportunity Description

Purpose of Program: The Transition to Teaching program encourages (1) the development and expansion of alternative routes to full State teacher certification, as well as (2) the recruitment and retention of highly qualified mid-career professionals, recent college graduates who have not majored in education, and highly qualified paraprofessionals as teachers in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs, including charter schools that operate as high-need LEAs.

Priorities: The Department has established three competitive preference priorities and one invitational priority that are explained in the following paragraphs. One competitive preference priority is from the statute for this program and the other two competitive preference priorities are from the notice of final priorities and requirements for this program, published in the Federal Register on April 30, 2004 (69 FR 24002, 24005) (NFP).

Competitive Preference Priorities: For FY 2006, these priorities are competitive preference priorities. Under 34 CFR 75.105(c)(2)(i), we award 5 additional points to an application that meets Competitive Preference Priority 1, and up to an additional 20 points to an application, depending on how well the application meets either Competitive Preference Priority 2 or 3. These points are in addition to any points the application earns under the program's selection criteria.

These priorities are:

Competitive Preference Priority 1--Partnerships or Consortia That Include a High-Need LEA or a High-Need SEA

In accordance with 34 CFR 75.105(b)(2)(iv), this priority is from section 2313(c) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended (ESEA) (20 U.S.C. 6683(c)). This priority supports projects that are designed and implemented in active partnerships or consortia that include at least one high-need LEA or high-need SEA.

Competitive Preference Priority 2--State Projects To Create or Expand, and Then Implement, Alternative Pathways to Teacher Certification

This priority is from the NFP (69 FR 24002, 20005). This priority supports projects designed and implemented by an SEA or a consortium of SEAs and the respective teacher certification agency of each State (if different from the SEA) to create or expand, and then implement, alternative pathways to certification. The project period is up to five years. Grantees will need to conduct both of the following activities:

(a) Create alternatives to the State's traditional certification requirements. In conducting this activity, States are encouraged to develop a variety of alternative pathways to certification as important options in their menu of State-approved procedures for teacher certification and licensure. For example, competency-based alternative routes would permit talented individuals interested in teaching to become fully certified through rigorous assessments of their content and professional teaching competence, thereby enabling LEAs to recruit from a larger and more talented pool of prospective teachers.

(b) Use the alternative routes to recruit individuals from groups eligible to participate in the Transition to Teaching program. Funded projects also would, among other things, need to work with participating high-need LEAs to--

(1) Increase the number and quality of mid-career changers, recent college graduates who have not majored in education, and qualified paraprofessionals recruited to teach high-need subjects (such as mathematics, science, and special education) in identified high-need LEAs (which may include LEAs that are charter schools), particularly those in urban and rural areas; and

(2) Provide these newly hired teachers with the support they need to become certified and effective teachers who will choose to make teaching their new long-term profession.

In particular, SEAs receiving project funds must--

(i) Target recruitment efforts on, and rigorously screen, candidates in areas where participating high-need LEAs have documented teacher shortages (e.g., mathematics, science, and special education);

(ii) Place prospective teachers only in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs;

(iii) Prepare individuals for specific positions in specific LEAs and place them in these positions early in the training process;

(iv) Ensure that recruited teachers receive the specific training they need to become fully certified or licensed teachers; and

(v) Have recruited teachers participate in a well-supervised induction period that may include the support of experienced, trained mentors.

Note: Applicants that choose to respond to Competitive Preference Priority 2 may do so however they choose. Those who respond to this priority may want to consider addressing such key factors as: (1) The data and other information the State has used to assess how and the extent to which current State certification requirements inhibit talented individuals from entering teaching; (2) the level of commitment of State leaders and policymakers to developing new or enhanced alternative certification requirements; (3) the State's statutory and regulatory authority to implement alternative pathways to certification; (4) how the SEA and other participating State agencies will actively involve all stakeholders with responsibility or authority for teacher preparation, hiring, and retention; and (5) a timeline for major actions that the SEA and other participating State agencies intend to implement to develop new or improved alternative pathways to teacher certification.

Competitive Preference Priority 3--District Projects to Streamline Teacher Hiring Systems, Timelines, and Processes

This priority is from the NFP (69 FR 24002, 20005). The priority supports projects by one or more LEAs to streamline their hiring systems, timelines, and processes. The project period is up to five years. A participating high-need LEA will need to conduct both of the following activities:

(a) Examine its current hiring system, processes, and policies to identify the critical barriers to hiring highly qualified teachers. The lack of highly qualified teachers in most urban and rural LEAs has often been attributed to their difficulty in recruiting interested and qualified individuals. However, recent research indicates that the problem may not be one of recruitment but may stem from inefficient and untimely LEA hiring systems and processes. This is especially true in high-poverty LEAs and schools--the very LEAs and schools the Transition to Teaching program is targeted to serve. Accordingly, each participating LEA will need to examine its current hiring processes and policies and, based upon that examination, identify the critical barriers to hiring highly qualified teachers.

(b) Design and implement efforts to remove the identified barriers and put in place systems that streamline and revamp the hiring process. In conducting this activity, LEAs are encouraged to create an efficient and timely applicant hiring process with a strong data tracking system and clear hiring goals. These efforts also should involve negotiating policy reforms that remove critical barriers, such as delayed notification of vacancies and seniority and retirement rules.

Participating LEAs also will carry out the requirements of the Transition to Teaching program by recruiting nontraditional candidates, using the streamlined hiring system to hire these individuals for teaching in high-need schools, working with them to achieve full State certification, and retaining them for at least three years.

Note: Applicants that choose to respond to Competitive Preference Priority 3 may do so however they choose. Those that respond to this priority may want to consider addressing such key factors as: (1) The existing barriers to early notification and hiring of new teachers; (2) the active engagement of LEA officials, teacher unions, and other stakeholders in developing a plan to remove existing barriers and implementing changes; (3) the actions each participating LEA intends to undertake to implement policies and systems for early notification and hiring of new teachers; and (4) a timeline for major action steps that each participating LEA intends to implement to develop the new hiring policies and systems.

Under this competition, we are particularly interested in applications that address the following priority. Invitational Priority: For FY 2006 this priority is an invitational priority. Under 34 CFR 75.105(c)(1) we do not give an application that meets this invitational priority a competitive or absolute preference over other applications.

This priority is:

Invitational Priority--Recruitment and Retention of Teachers of Mathematics or Science at the High School Level

This priority supports projects that focus on the recruitment, preparation, placement, support, and retention of mid-career professionals, including highly qualified paraprofessionals, and recent college graduates who did not major in education to serve as mathematics or science teachers in high schools that are high-need schools in high-need LEAs.

Note: Applicants are encouraged to identify high-need high schools in high-need LEAs with a shortage of mathematics or science teachers, and recruit qualified individuals as teachers for these schools. In addition, applicants are encouraged to address how their efforts to recruit and retain mathematics and science teachers through the Transition to Teaching program can support other reform efforts in the high-need schools and districts to improve the quality of instruction in mathematics, science, and high schools in general.

Note: The NFP includes definitions for terms used in these priorities, including ``highly qualified paraprofessional,' ' ``high-need subject,' ' and ``high-need SEA.' '

Program Authority: 20 U.S.C. 6681-6684.

Applicable Regulations: (a) The Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) in 34 CFR parts 74, 75, 77, 79, 80, 81, 82, 84, 85, 86, 97, 98 and 99. (b) The notice of final priorities and requirements for this program published in the Federal Register on April 30, 2004 (69 FR 24002).

Note: The regulations in 34 CFR part 86 apply to IHEs only.

II. Award Information

Type of Award: Discretionary grants.

Estimated Available Funds: $5-6 million. The Department has established separate funding categories for projects of a different scope. These categories are:

(1) National/regional projects (84.350C) that serve eligible high-need LEAs in more than one State;

(2) Statewide projects (84.350B) that serve eligible high-need LEAs statewide or eligible high-need LEAs in more than one area of a State; and

(3) Local projects (84.350A) that serve one eligible high-need LEA or two or more eligible high-need LEAs in a single area of a State.

Estimated Range of Awards: National/regional projects--$300,000-$1,000,000 per year; Statewide projects--$150,000-$600,000 per year; and Local projects--$100,000-$400,000 per year.

Estimated Average Size of Awards: National/regional projects--$750,000 per year; Statewide projects--$375,000 per year; and Local projects--$225,000 per year.

Estimated Number of Awards: National/regional projects--2; Statewide projects--5; and Local projects--10.

Note: The Department is not bound by any estimates in this notice.

Project Period: Up to 60 months.

III. Eligibility Information

1. Eligible Applicants: An SEA; a high-need LEA; a for-profit or nonprofit organization that has a proven record of effectively recruiting and retaining highly qualified teachers, in a partnership with a high-need LEA or an SEA; an IHE, in a partnership with a high-need LEA or an SEA; a regional consortium of SEAs; or a consortium of high-need LEAs. Each application must identify participating LEAs that meet the definition of ``high-need LEA' ' in section 2102(3) of the ESEA.

Note: Section 2102(3) of the ESEA defines a high-need LEA as an LEA--

(a) That serves not fewer than 10,000 children from families with incomes below the poverty line (as that term is defined in section 9101(33) of the ESEA), or for which not less than 20 percent of the children served by the LEA are from families with incomes below the poverty line; and

(b) For which there is (1) a high percentage of teachers not teaching in the academic subjects or grade levels that the teachers were trained to teach, or (2) a high percentage of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing.

The NFP describes how applicants must demonstrate that a participating LEA meets this statutory definition of ``high-need LEA.'' (See 69 FR 24002, 24006) Pursuant to the NFP, we provide the following supplementary information regarding the data applicants use to demonstrate eligibility as a ``high-need LEA'' under this competition:

As described in the NFP, absent a showing of alternative LEA data that reliably show the number of children from families with incomes below the poverty line that are served by the LEA, the eligibility of an LEA as a ``high-need LEA'' under component (a) of the definition must be determined on the basis of the most recent U.S. Census Bureau data. The most recent U.S. Census Bureau data can be found in the charts on the Internet at: <http://www.census.gov/housing/saipe/sd03/>

The Department examines the eligibility of any LEA not listed on these charts on a case-by-case basis.

As discussed in the NFP, with respect to component (b)(1) of the definition of ``high-need LEA,'' whether an LEA has a ``high percentage of teachers not teaching in the academic subjects or grade levels that the teachers were trained to teach'' is determined on a case-by-case basis.

In addition, as noted in the NFP, with respect to component (b)(2) of the definition of ``high-need LEA,'' an LEA has a ``high percentage'' of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing if the percentage of teachers on waivers, as the LEA reported to the State for purposes of the State's latest report to the Secretary under section 207 of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (HEA), was at least the national average percentage of teachers on waivers of State certification for all LEAs. As outlined in the NFP, the Secretary determines the national average percentage of teachers on waivers based on data contained in the most currently available HEA section 207 State reports. At the time of publication of this notice, the Department has received all 2005 State HEA section 207 reports and those reports reflect a national average percentage of teachers on waivers of State certification in all LEAs of 2.5 percent.

Because the Department is in the process of certifying all data received in the 2005 State HEA section 207 reports, the data in these reports, including the national average of teachers on waivers of State certification, are still provisional. However, to provide adequate time for the preparation and review of project applications and award of new grants before FY 2006 program funds lapse on September 30, 2006, the Department will use the 2.5 percent national average for purposes of this competition. Accordingly, an LEA will be considered to have met component (b)(2) of the definition of ``high-need LEA'' if the data that it provided to the State for purposes of the State's October 2005 HEA section 207 report demonstrate that at least 2.5 percent of its teachers were on waivers of State certification requirements.

2. Cost Sharing or Matching: This program does not involve cost sharing or matching but does involve supplement-not-supplant funding provisions. In accordance with section 2313(h)(2) of the ESEA, funds made available under this section shall be used to supplement, and not supplant, State and local public funds expended for teacher recruitment and retention programs, including programs to recruit the teachers through alternative routes to certification.

3. Other: The NFP describes eligibility restrictions for individuals participating in this program.

Notice of Intent to Apply: February 21, 2006.

The Department will be able to develop a more efficient process for reviewing grant applications if it has a better understanding of the number of entities that intend to apply for funding under this competition. Therefore, the Secretary strongly encourages each potential applicant to notify the Department by sending a short e-mail message indicating the applicant's intent to submit an application for funding. The e-mail need not include information regarding the content of the proposed application, only the applicant's intent to submit it. The Secretary requests that this e-mail notification be sent to Thelma Leenhouts at: transitiontoteaching@ed.gov. Applicants that fail to provide this e-mail notification may still apply for funding.

Page Limit: The application narrative (Part III of the application) is where you, the applicant, address the selection criteria that reviewers use to evaluate your application. Applicants must limit Part III to the equivalent of no more than 50 pages, using the following standards:

A ``page'' is 8.5[sec] x 11[sec], on one side only, with 1[sec] margins at the top, bottom, and both sides.

Double space (no more than three lines per vertical inch) all text in the application narrative, except titles, headings, footnotes, quotations, references, and captions, as well as all text in charts, tables, figures and graphs.

The page limit does not apply to Part I, the cover sheet; Part II, the budget section, including the narrative budget justification; Part IV, the assurances and certifications; or the one-page abstract, curriculum vitae, or the bibliography of literature cited. However, you must include all of the application narrative in Part III.

Our reviewers will not read any pages of your application that--

Exceed the page limit if you apply these standards; or Exceed the equivalent of the page limit if you apply other standards.

For information (including dates and times) about how to submit your application electronically or by mail or hand delivery if you qualify for an exception to the electronic submission requirement, please refer to section IV. 6. Other Submission Requirements in this notice.

We do not consider an application that does not comply with the deadline requirements.

Deadline for Intergovernmental Review: May 19, 2006.

4. Intergovernmental Review: This competition is subject to Executive Order 12372 and the regulations in 34 CFR part 79. Information about Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs under Executive Order 12372 is in the application package for this competition.

5. Funding Restrictions: We reference regulations outlining funding restrictions in the Applicable Regulations section of this notice and in the NFP.

6. Other Submission Requirements: Applications for grants under this competition must be submitted electronically unless you qualify for an exception to this requirement in accordance with the instructions in this section.

a. Electronic Submission of Applications

Applications for grants under the Transition to Teaching Competition-CFDA Number 84.350A, 84.350B, and 84.350C must be submitted electronically using the Grants.gov Apply site at: <http://www.grants.gov>.

Through this site, you will be able to download a copy of the application package, complete it offline, and then upload and submit your application. You may not e-mail an electronic copy of a grant application to us.

We will reject your application if you submit it in paper format unless, as described elsewhere in this section, you qualify for one of the exceptions to the electronic submission requirement and submit, no later than two weeks before the application deadline date, a written statement to the Department that you qualify for one of these exceptions. Further information regarding calculation of the date that is two weeks before the application deadline date is provided later in this section under Exception to Electronic Submission Requirement.

You may access the electronic grant application for Transition to Teaching at: <http://www.grants.gov>. You must search for the downloadable application package for this program by the CFDA number. Do not include the CFDA number's alpha suffix in your search.

Please note the following:

When you enter the Grants.gov site, you will find information about submitting an application electronically through the site, as well as the hours of operation.

Applications received by Grants.gov are time and date stamped. Your application must be fully uploaded and submitted, and must be date/time stamped by the Grants.gov system no later than 4:30 p.m., Washington, DC time, on the application deadline date. Except as otherwise noted in this section, we will not consider your application if it is date/time stamped by the Grants.gov system later than 4:30 p.m., Washington, DC time, on the application deadline date. When we retrieve your application from Grants.gov, we will notify you if we are rejecting your application because it was date/time stamped by the Grants.gov system after 4:30 p.m., Washington, DC time, on the application deadline date.

The amount of time it can take to upload an application will vary depending on a variety of factors including the size of the application and the speed of your Internet connection. Therefore, we strongly recommend that you do not wait until the application deadline date to begin the submission process through Grants.gov.

You should review and follow the Education Submission Procedures for submitting an application through Grants.gov that are included in the application package for this competition to ensure that you submit your application in a timely manner to the Grants.gov system. You can also find the Education Submission Procedures pertaining to Grants.gov at <http://www.ed.gov/policy/fund/guid/transition.html>

To submit your application via Grants.gov, you must complete all of the steps in the Grants.gov registration process (see <http://www.Grants.gov/GetStarted>). These steps include (1) registering your organization, (2) registering yourself as an Authorized Organization Representative (AOR), and (3) getting authorized as an AOR by your organization. Details on these steps are outlined in the Grants.gov 3-Step Registration Guide (see <http://www.grants.gov/assets/GrantsgovCoBrandBrochure8X11.pdf>). You also must provide on your application the same D-U-N-S Number used with this registration. Please note that the registration process may take five or more business days to complete, and you must have completed all registration steps to allow you to successfully submit an application via Grants.gov.

You will not receive additional point value because you submit your application in electronic format, nor will we penalize you if you qualify for an exception to the electronic submission requirement, as described elsewhere in this section, and submit your application in paper format.

You must submit all documents electronically, including all information typically included on the Application for Federal Education Assistance (ED 424), Budget Information--Non-Construction Programs (ED 524), and all necessary assurances and certifications. You must attach any narrative sections of your application as files in a .DOC (document), .RTF (rich text), or .PDF (Portable Document) format. If you upload a file type other than the three file types specified above or submit a password protected file, we will not review that material.

Your electronic application must comply with any page limit requirements described in this notice.

After you electronically submit your application, you will receive an automatic acknowledgment from Grants.gov that contains a Grants.gov tracking number. The Department will retrieve your application from Grants.gov and send you a second confirmation by e-mail that will include a PR/Award number (an ED-specified identifying number unique to your application).

We may request that you provide us original signatures on forms at a later date.

Application Deadline Date Extension in Case of Technical Issues with the Grants.gov System: If you are prevented from electronically submitting your application on the application deadline date because of technical problems with the Grants.gov system, we will grant you an extension until 4:30 p.m., Washington, DC time, the following business day to enable you to transmit your application electronically, or by hand delivery. You also may mail your application by following the mailing instructions as described elsewhere in this notice. If you submit an application after 4:30 p.m., Washington, DC time, on the deadline date, please contact the person listed elsewhere in this notice under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT, and provide an explanation of the technical problem you experienced with Grants.gov, along with the Grants.gov Support Desk Case Number (if available). We will accept your application if we can confirm that a technical problem occurred with the Grants.gov system and that that problem affected your ability to submit your application by 4:30 p.m., Washington, DC time, on the application deadline date. The Department will contact you after a determination is made on whether your application will be accepted.

Note: Extensions referred to in this section apply only to the unavailability of or technical problems with the Grants.gov system. We will not grant you an extension if you failed to fully register to submit your application to Grants.gov before the deadline date and time or if the technical problem you experienced is unrelated to the Grants.gov system.

Exception to Electronic Submission Requirement: You qualify for an exception to the electronic submission requirement, and may submit your application in paper format, if you are unable to submit an application through the Grants.gov system because--

You do not have access to the Internet; or

You do not have the capacity to upload large documents to the Grants.gov system; and

No later than two weeks before the application deadline date (14 calendar days or, if the fourteenth calendar day before the application deadline date falls on a Federal holiday, the next business day following the Federal holiday), you mail or fax a written statement to the Department, explaining which of the two grounds for an exception prevent you from using the Internet to submit your application. If you mail your written statement to the Department, it must be postmarked no later than two weeks before the application deadline date. If you fax your written statement to the Department, we must receive the faxed statement no later than two weeks before the application deadline date.

Address and mail or fax your statement to: Thelma Leenhouts, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW., room 4W302, Washington, DC 20202-5960. FAX: (202) 401-8466.

Your paper application must be submitted in accordance with the mail or hand delivery instructions described in this notice.

b. Submission of Paper Applications by Mail

If you qualify for an exception to the electronic submission requirement, you may mail (through the U.S. Postal Service or a commercial carrier) your application to the Department. You must mail the original and two copies of your application, on or before the application deadline date, to the Department at the applicable following address:

If you mail your application through the U.S. Postal Service, we do not accept either of the following as proof of mailing:

- (1) A private metered postmark, or
- (2) A mail receipt that is not dated by the U.S. Postal Service.

If your application is postmarked after the application deadline date, we will not consider your application.

Note: The U.S. Postal Service does not uniformly provide a dated postmark. Before relying on this method, you should check with your local post office.

c. Submission of Paper Applications by Hand Delivery.

If you qualify for an exception to the electronic submission requirement, you (or a courier service) may deliver your paper application to the Department by hand. You must deliver the original and two copies of your application by hand, on or before the application deadline date, to the Department at the following address: U.S. Department of Education, Application Control Center, Attention: 84.350A, 84.350B, or 84.350C, 550 12th Street, SW., Room 7041, Potomac Center Plaza, Washington, DC 20202-4260.

(2) The Application Control Center will mail a grant application receipt acknowledgment to you. If you do not receive the grant application receipt acknowledgment within 15 business days from the application deadline date, you should call the U.S. Department of Education Application Control Center at (202) 245-6288.

V. Application Review Information

1. Selection Criteria: The selection criteria for this competition are from the statute for this program and Sec. 75.210 of EDGAR and are listed in this section. The maximum score for all the selection criteria is 100 points. The maximum score for each criterion is indicated in parentheses. Each criterion also includes the factors that the reviewers will consider in determining how well an application meets the criterion. In addressing each criterion, applicants are encouraged to make explicit connections to relevant aspects of responses to other selection criteria.

The Notes we have included after each criterion are guidance to assist applicants in understanding the criterion as they prepare their applications and are not required by statute or regulation.

A. Significance of the Project (20 Points)

The Secretary considers the significance of the proposed project. In determining the significance of the proposed project, the Secretary considers the following factors:

(1) The significance of the problem or issue to be addressed by the proposed project.

(2) The likelihood that the proposed project will result in system change or improvement.

(3) The extent to which the proposed project involves the development or demonstration of promising new strategies that build on, or are alternatives to, existing strategies.

Note: The Secretary encourages applicants to address this criterion by identifying specific gaps and weaknesses in the services and infrastructure currently in place for the recruitment, preparation, placement, and retention of teachers and by stating how the proposed project will address these gaps and weaknesses. The Secretary encourages applicants to identify (1) current barriers that the high-need LEAs to be served by the project face in meeting their teacher recruitment needs, including, if relevant, barriers caused by existing State certification or licensure requirements, (2) why these barriers exist, and (3) how the project would significantly help those LEAs overcome these barriers.

Applicants are also encouraged to address this criterion by identifying the specific teacher-shortage areas faced by the participating high-need LEAs on which their proposed projects would focus. These may include such high-need subject areas as mathematics, science, special education, and English as a second language and particular grade levels, including middle and high schools. Applicants should understand that a project's strategy for helping participating high-need LEAs to identify and hire highly qualified individuals to fill teaching positions in high-need subjects may rely on existing alternative routes to certification, expansions of them into new areas, or creation of wholly new alternative routes.

B. Quality of the Project Design (35 Points)

The Secretary considers the quality of the project design for the proposed project by considering how well the applicant describes a plan--

(1) To develop a program to recruit and retain highly qualified mid-career professionals (including highly qualified paraprofessionals) and recent graduates of an IHE as teachers in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs; and

(2) To enable individuals to become eligible for teacher certification under State-approved alternative routes to certification programs within a reduced period of time, relying on such factors as experience, expertise, and academic qualifications in lieu of traditional course work in education.

In considering the quality of the project design and the applicant's plan, the Secretary considers the following factors:

(a) The extent to which the goals, objectives, and outcomes to be achieved by the proposed project are clearly specified and measurable.

(b) The extent to which the design of the proposed project reflects up-to-date knowledge from research and effective practice.

(c) The extent to which the design of the proposed project is appropriate to, and will successfully address, the needs of the target population or other identified needs.

(d) The extent to which the proposed project is designed to build capacity and yield results that will extend beyond the period of Federal financial assistance.

Note: The Secretary encourages applicants to address this criterion by discussing the overall project model and its key components, and the degree to which the model's key components are based on sound research and practice. Applicants may want to address such key components of project design as:

(1) Recruitment and selection, including identifying the target group(s) on which the program will focus and why and how the program is designed to rigorously select participants with the requisite content knowledge, skills, and commitment to teach in high-need LEAs and schools.

(2) Training and preparation, including how the project provides a route to certification that is accelerated, integrates coursework and field experience, and is adapted to participants' learning needs.

(3) Mentoring and support, including services that are designed to meet the target participants' needs in terms of length, content, and means of delivery in order to be successful in high-needs schools and LEAs.

(4) Teacher placement, including evidence that the proposed project will meet the needs of high-need LEAs and is developed in coordination with appropriate partners, that the timing of placements will be appropriate to the needs of program participants, and that the project includes a system of tracking to meet statutory requirements.

(5) Certification, including consideration of how the timeline for achieving full certification will meet the needs of participants, LEAs, and partners, as well as the ``Highly Qualified Teacher'' requirements established in section 9101(23) of the ESEA.

In addition, applicants are encouraged to clarify the means by which the project's specified outcomes and benefits may be sustained once Federal funding has ended.

C. Quality of Project Services (20 Points)

In determining the quality of the services to be provided by the proposed project, the Secretary considers the following factors:

(1) The extent to which the services to be provided by the proposed project are appropriate to the needs of the intended recipients or beneficiaries of those services.

(2) The extent to which the training or professional development services to be provided by the proposed project are of sufficient quality, intensity, and duration to lead to improvements in practice among the recipients of those services.

(3) The extent to which the training or professional development services to be provided by the proposed project are likely to alleviate the personnel shortages that have been identified or are the focus of the proposed project.

(4) The extent to which the services to be provided by the proposed project involve the collaboration of appropriate partners for maximizing the effectiveness of project services.

Note: The Secretary encourages applicants to address this criterion by discussing how the proposed project services will meet the needs both of the high-need LEAs identified in the application and of the program participants they would recruit to become teachers. Applicants are encouraged to consult the list of authorized activities in section 2313(g) of the ESEA in describing the specific services to be delivered to recruit, prepare, and retain participants that will increase the number of highly qualified teachers in high-need schools in high-need LEAs. In addition, the Secretary encourages applicants to consider carefully the breadth of activities that section 2313(g) of the ESEA authorizes and then to address how the project will:

(1) Provide training that meets the learning needs of the participants and makes use of appropriate media (such as face-to-face and Web-based instruction, and distance learning) to provide them with the skills needed to be highly qualified and effective teachers in the identified high-need subject areas and high-needs schools and LEAs.

(2) Support project participants' success in high-need schools and LEAs during the period of their service obligation through individual mentoring, support of participants as a group, use of technology, or other appropriate means.

(3) Encourage the participation of all project partners, including school leaders, in providing services related to the recruitment, preparation, and retention of project participants and ensuring lasting benefits or outcomes. Applicants are encouraged to clarify the roles of partners in each phase of the project and the extent of coordination that will occur with similar efforts at the State and district levels. In addition, applicants are encouraged to consider how they might demonstrate (e.g., through narrative discussion, letters of support, or formal memoranda of understanding) the commitment of partners to the project and the partners' understanding of responsibilities they have agreed to assume in service delivery.

D. Quality of the Management Plan (10 Points)

In determining the quality of the management plan for the proposed project, the Secretary considers the adequacy of the management plan to achieve the objectives of the proposed project on time and within budget, including clearly defined responsibilities, timelines, and milestones for accomplishing project tasks.

Note: Section 75.112 of EDGAR requires an applicant for a multiyear grant to include a narrative that describes how and when, in each budget period of the project, the applicant plans to meet each project objective. The Secretary encourages applicants to address this criterion by including in this narrative a schedule of activities with sufficient time for developing an adequate implementation plan, as well as timelines for providing program participants the support they need in their initial years as teachers.

E. Quality of the Project Evaluation (15 Points)

The Secretary considers the quality of the evaluation to be conducted of the proposed project. In determining the quality of the evaluation to be conducted, the Secretary considers the following factors:

(1) The extent to which the methods of evaluation include the use of objective performance measures that are clearly related to the intended outcomes of the project and will produce quantitative and qualitative data to the extent possible.

(2) The extent to which the methods of evaluation will provide performance feedback and permit periodic assessment of progress toward achieving intended outcomes.

Note: The Secretary encourages applicants to address this criterion by including benchmarks to monitor progress toward specific project objectives and also outcome measures to assess the impact on teaching and learning or other important outcomes for project participants. (The specific performance measures established for the overall Transition to Teaching program are discussed under Performance Measures in section VI of this notice. Section 2314 of the ESEA also requires grantees to submit both an interim evaluation of the first three years of the grant and a final evaluation at the end of the grant.)

The Secretary also encourages applicants to identify the individual or organization that has agreed to serve as evaluator for the project and describe the qualifications of that evaluator. Finally, applicants are encouraged to indicate: (1) What types of data will be collected; (2) when various types of data will be collected; (3) what methods will be used; (4) what instruments will be developed and when; (5) how the data will be analyzed; (6) when reports of results and outcomes will be available; and (7) how the applicant will use the information collected through the evaluation to monitor progress of the funded project and to provide accountability information about both the success at the initial site or sites and effective strategies for replication in other settings. Applicants are encouraged to devote an appropriate level of resources to project evaluation.

2. Review and Selection Process: Additional information concerning our review and selection of grant applications in this competition are contained in the NFP.

VI. Award Administration Information

1. Award Notices: If your application is successful, we notify your U.S. Representative and U.S. Senators and send you a Grant Award Notification (GAN). We may also notify you informally.

If your application is not evaluated or not selected for funding, we notify you.

2. Administrative and National Policy Requirements: We identify administrative and national policy requirements in the application package and reference these and other requirements in the Applicable Regulations section of this notice.

We reference the regulations outlining the terms and conditions of an award in the Applicable Regulations section of this notice and include these and other specific conditions in the GAN. The GAN also incorporates your approved application as part of your binding commitments under the grant.

3. Reporting: The Secretary requires successful applicants to submit annual performance reports and, after the last year of the project, a final report. The annual performance report documents the grantee's yearly progress toward meeting expected programmatic outcomes. These outcomes must be based on measurable performance objectives including, but not limited to, the performance measures described in paragraph 4 of this section. These reports must evaluate--

(1) The grantee's progress in meeting the application's objectives;

(2) The project's effectiveness in meeting the purposes of the Transition to Teaching program; and

(3) The project's effect on the specific LEAs the project serves.

Among other things, the Department uses the annual performance reports to determine whether a grantee has demonstrated substantial progress in meeting the goals and objectives (as described in its approved application), and thereby merits a continuation award (for years 2-5). See Sec. 75.118 of EDGAR.

Grantees also will be required to submit a final performance report, due no later than 90 days after the end of the project period.

In addition, section 2314 of the ESEA requires grantees to submit to the Department and to the Congress interim and final evaluations at the end of the third and fifth years of the grant period, respectively. These evaluations must describe the extent to which high-need LEAs that received funds through the grant have met their goals relating to teacher recruitment and retention as described in the project application. Additional requirements pertaining to these reports are in the NFP.

For specific requirements on grantee reporting, please go to <http://www.ed.gov/fund/grant/apply/appforms/appforms.html>.

4. Performance Measures: The Secretary has established one performance indicator for assessing the effectiveness of the Transition to Teaching program: the percentage of new, highly qualified Transition to Teaching teachers who teach in high-need schools in high-need LEAs for at least three years. We will track this indicator through the use of the following three performance measures. We will gather the data for these measures from the grantees.

Measure One: The percentage of all Transition to Teaching participants who become teachers of record in high-need schools in high-need LEAs.

Measure Two: The percentage of Transition to Teaching participants receiving certification/licensure within three years.

Measure Three: The percentage of Transition to Teaching teachers of record who teach in high-need schools in high-need LEAs for at least three years.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

RIN 1855-ZA06

Transition to Teaching

AGENCY: Office of Innovation and Improvement, Department of Education.

ACTION: Notice of final priorities and requirements.

SUMMARY: The Deputy Under Secretary for Innovation and Improvement announces two priorities under the Transition to Teaching program. The Deputy Under Secretary may use one or more of these priorities for competitions in fiscal year (FY) 2004 and later years. We take this action to focus Federal financial assistance on State efforts to create or expand alternative routes to teacher certification and district efforts to streamline teacher hiring systems and processes. We intend for the priorities to help States and districts under this program to lower barriers to certification and hiring and increase the number of highly qualified teachers who are recruited into teaching from nontraditional sources. The Deputy Under Secretary also announces minimum requirements that are needed for efficient grant competitions for FY 2004 and future years, and to ensure that grantees focus their program funds on direct costs of their projects.

Effective Date: These priorities and requirements are effective June 1, 2004.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Thelma Leenhouts, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW., room 3C102, Washington, DC 20202-5942. Telephone: (202) 260-0223 or via Internet: Thelma.Leenhouts@ed.gov.

If you use a telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD), you may call the Federal Information Relay Service (FIRS) at 1-800-877-8339.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

General

With the beginning of the 2002-2003 school year, Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA), as reauthorized by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001, Public Law 107-110 (NCLB), required that all newly hired teachers of core academic subjects who teach in Title I programs be highly qualified, and, by the end of the 2005-2006 school year, Title I requires that all school district teachers of core academic subjects be highly qualified. Both States and local districts face challenges in meeting these requirements.

The Transition to Teaching program is designed to address these challenges by helping high-need schools operated by high-need local educational agencies (LEAs) secure and retain the highly qualified teachers that students in those schools need to help them achieve to challenging academic standards. It does so by encouraging the development and expansion of alternative pathways to teacher certification, and by supporting local programs that make use of these alternative pathways to recruit, hire, and retain highly qualified teachers.

Transition to Teaching projects: (1) Recruit as teachers talented mid-career professionals, recent college graduates who have not completed a teacher preparation program, and qualified school paraprofessionals; and (2) help these individuals to become successfully certified and licensed classroom teachers in high-need schools of high-need LEAs.

Through this notice, we establish two funding priorities for this program. The Department may decide to use these priorities in the FY 2004 competition and in future competitions as well. One priority focuses on State projects to create or expand, and then implement, alternative pathways to teacher certification. The other priority focuses on school district projects to streamline teacher hiring systems, timelines, and processes.

Establishing these priorities makes it possible to focus program funds at both the State level, where decisions on teacher certification requirements are made, and at the district level, where responsibility for hiring resides. These priorities are designed to open up certification through alternative pathways and to streamline district hiring practices, both of which are necessary to help States and LEAs improve their recruitment practices and, by doing so, address the NCLB highly qualified teacher requirement and increase the overall quality of their teaching force.

We published a notice of proposed priorities and requirements for this program in the Federal Register on February 20, 2004 (69 FR 7914-7919).

Analysis of Comments and Changes

In response to our invitation in the notice of proposed priorities and requirements, 13 parties submitted comments on the proposed priorities and requirements. An analysis of the comments and of any changes in the priorities and requirements since publication of the notice of proposed priorities and requirements follows.

We group our discussion of the issues raised by the commenters into two groups--proposed priorities and proposed requirements. Generally, we do not address technical and other minor changes--and suggested changes the law does not authorize us to make under the applicable statutory authority. However, in this notice, we have included a discussion of comments that were related to statutory issues so that we can provide needed clarification on these issues.

Proposed Priorities

Comment: While generally pleased with Priority 1, which focuses on creation or expansion of alternative routes to certification as the vehicle for recruiting and hiring teachers in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs, one commenter recommended that we permit independent State teacher certification agencies to apply for a grant on their own behalf rather than jointly with the State educational agencies (SEAs).

Discussion: The ESEA does not permit an independent State teacher certification agency to apply on its own behalf for a grant under this program. Section 2313(b) of the ESEA provides that the following entities are eligible to receive a Transition to Teaching grant: An SEA, a high-need LEA, a for-profit or not-for-profit organization that has a proven record of effectively recruiting and retaining highly qualified teachers in a partnership with a high-need LEA or SEA, or an institution of higher education in partnership with a high-need LEA or with an SEA, or consortia of SEAs or high-need LEAs.

Section 9101(41) of the ESEA defines an SEA as ``the agency primarily responsible for the State supervision of public elementary schools and secondary schools.'' An independent State teacher certification agency would not meet this definition. Thus, absent a change in the statute, to be eligible for a grant under this program, an independent State teacher certification agency may only apply in partnership with a high-need LEA or SEA.

Change: None.

Comments: One commenter recommended the elimination of Priority 2, which focuses on streamlining district hiring systems and policies. The commenter stated that the proposed priority does not address the major obstacles to teacher recruitment and placement, which the commenter characterized as State fiscal issues and legislative unresponsiveness. Two other commenters expressed support for this priority, indicating that it addresses a critical need.

Discussion: While State budget constraints and legislative inaction may indeed impede district efforts to hire highly qualified and effective teachers, they are beyond the capacity of this program to address. On the other hand, the priority addresses a barrier that is a significant one for large numbers of school districts throughout the country, especially urban ones. In this regard, research conducted by The New Teacher Project and described in its 2003 publication, ``Missed Opportunities: How We Keep High-Quality Teachers Out of Urban Classrooms,'' confirms that untimely and inefficient district hiring policies and practices result in the inability to hire large numbers of qualified individuals already recruited to teach in urban school districts. Through this priority, the Transition to Teaching program can support local efforts to address this problem.

Change: None.

Comments: Four commenters recommended the addition of a third priority focusing on the preparation of teachers of English as a Second Language (ESL) and bilingual teachers who could address the critical needs of English language learners in their States. One commenter recommended a priority for bilingual teachers with expertise in mathematics, science, English, and social studies.

Discussion: We have acknowledged the need for teachers of English language learners by including ESL in the definition of ``high-need subjects'' in which a recruited individual may teach. However, we do not believe that the competition should favor recruitment of teachers of particular subgroups of students or in particular subject areas. Rather, we believe that applicants should be free to tailor their program applications to address the teacher-shortage needs of the high-need LEAs that would participate in the project, including the need for ESL and bilingual teachers.

Change: None.

Proposed Requirements

Comments: A few commenters recommended revisions in proposed requirements that would require statutory changes. For example, commenters recommended revising the proposed requirement that participants who want to teach in secondary schools must have completed an academic major or the equivalent in the core academic subject the participants would teach. One commenter suggested, in the alternative, that individuals who would teach in secondary schools be eligible to participate if they have passed the State standardized subject matter competency examination in the core academic subject they will teach. Commenters further recommended that we: (1) Eliminate the requirement that participants, other than qualified mid-career changers (including qualified paraprofessionals), have graduated from institutions of higher education not less than three years before seeking a teaching position through this program; (2) eliminate the requirement that prospective teachers be placed only in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs; and (3) expand program eligibility to include organizations that train older workers as teachers' aides, thereby allowing these agencies to partner with school districts in order to increase the number of teachers' aides.

Finally, one commenter expressed concern about the definition of high-need LEA, particularly paragraphs (b)(1) and (2) of section 2102(3) of the ESEA. This provision, applicable to the Transition to Teaching program by virtue of section 2102(3), requires that in addition to having high poverty a high-need LEA have ``(1) a high percentage of teachers not teaching in the academic subjects or grade levels the teachers were trained to teach, or (2) a high percentage of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing.'' Given State policy changes in response to the highly qualified teacher requirements of NCLB, the commenter stressed that districts will experience increasing difficulty in being able to meet either element of this criterion.

Discussion: These commenters all seek changes to statutory provisions governing a participant's eligibility and service obligation, contained in sections 2312(1) and (2) and 2313(i) of the ESEA. We have no authority to make the changes the commenters seek.

With regard to the definition of ``high-need LEA'' in sections 2102(3) and 2312(2) of the ESEA, we are aware that, as they implement the highly qualified teacher requirements in sections 1119 and 9101(23) of the ESEA, fewer and fewer LEAs will have high percentages of uncertified teachers or teachers teaching out of field. The law sets as a goal that, by the end of the 2005-2006 school year, LEAs will have only certified teachers with demonstrated content knowledge teaching in core academic subjects, and hence LEAs would have no teachers teaching these subjects out-of-field.

As we discuss under the Definitions heading in the ``Requirements for the FY 2004 and Future Year Grant Competitions and Award of Funds'' section of this notice, the Department is continuing to determine the ``high percentage'' of uncertified teachers that would enable an LEA--with the requisite level of poverty--to meet the definition of a ``high-need LEA'' on the basis of national data that States report under section 207 of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended (HEA). In their HEA reports, States annually provide the Department, among other things, with the percentages of teachers for LEAs as a whole and for high-poverty LEAs who are teaching with some kind of waiver of State certification requirements, i.e., the percentage of teachers who LEAs report to their States are uncertified. For the FY 2002 Transition to Teaching program competition, the Department determined that the average percentage of teachers on waivers in high-poverty LEAs, as reflected in the October 2001 HEA State reports, was the best proxy for a high percentage of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing that would permit an LEA to qualify as ``high-need.''

The most recent HEA reports submitted in October 2003 indicate that the national average of uncertified teachers in high-poverty LEAs last year was eight (8) percent, down from eleven (11) percent in the 2001-02 school year. However, in reconsidering this matter we believe that it is reasonable to consider a ``high percentage'' of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing to be equal to or greater than the national average percentage of teachers on waivers in all LEAs as reported in the most current HEA reports--rather than the average percentage only in high-poverty LEAs. All high-need LEAs must meet the statutory criterion of high poverty. But we see no reason to further restrict the number of LEAs that can benefit from this program by also requiring that they have at least the national percentage of teachers on waivers in high-poverty LEAs.

Change: For purposes of the FY 2004 and future year competitions, an LEA that meets the poverty threshold of the definition of ``high-need LEA'' will be considered a high-need LEA if it has at least the percentage of teachers on waivers of State certification as the national average of all LEAs. To demonstrate that it meets this requirement, the LEA will use the data it provided to the State on the percentage of its teachers on waivers of State certification, and which the State then used in completing its most recent HEA report to the Secretary.

Comment: One commenter requested that we define the term ``highly-qualified paraprofessional'' so that applicants would know which paraprofessionals may be recruited into teaching positions.

Discussion: Section 2312(1) of the ESEA provides that individuals eligible to participate in Transition to Teaching programs include ``an individual with substantial demonstrable career experience, including a highly-qualified paraprofessional.'' While the section of the statute authorizing the Transition to Teaching program does not define this term, it is defined in section 2102(4) of the ESEA (for the Title II, part A program) as ``a paraprofessional who has not less than 2 years of--

(A) Experience in the classroom; and

(B) Postsecondary education or demonstrated competence in a field or academic subject for which there is a significant shortage of qualified teachers.''

Section 2123(a)(2)(C)(ii) of the ESEA uses this term to identify paraprofessionals whom LEAs may recruit to become teachers, through alternative routes to teacher certification, with the use of Title II, part A funds. Given the comparability of that provision with the thrust of the Transition to Teaching program, we believe it is reasonable to adopt this same definition of highly qualified paraprofessional for this program.

Change: The final requirements for this competition include the definition of ``highly qualified paraprofessional'' contained in section 2102(4) of the ESEA.

Comments: Two commenters recommended that teachers who already have certification or licensure in one subject area be eligible to participate in Transition to Teaching projects in order to retrain and become recertified in high-need subject areas. One commenter supported the proposed requirement that these teachers not be eligible.

Discussion: The Transition to Teaching program statute provides that projects are to increase the number of teachers in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs. The program is designed and intended to bring into teaching individuals from non-teaching careers, not to provide financial support to existing teachers who want to change their current areas of certification. Other ESEA program funds, such as those available under Title II, part A, are available if a district chooses to use funds for this purpose.

Change: None.

Comments: Three commenters recommended that individuals who are already teaching on a provisional, temporary, or emergency license be eligible to participate in the Transition to Teaching program. The commenters believe that our proposal to prohibit individuals who are teaching on a provisional, temporary, or emergency license prior to recruitment into the Transition to Teaching program from participating in Transition to Teaching projects would unfairly exclude a desirable group from participating in the program.

Discussion: We do not dispute that many individuals now teaching on a provisional, temporary, or emergency teaching license are dedicated and have demonstrated an interest in teaching. The Department proposed this requirement so that, consistent with the Transition to Teaching program's purpose, projects would focus their recruitment efforts on bringing new individuals into teaching through alternative routes. However, we do not wish to preclude individuals now teaching on a provisional, temporary, or emergency license from participating in the program if they are otherwise eligible under the definition of eligible participant in section 2312(1).

Change: The program requirements have been revised so that individuals who are now teaching but have not yet acquired full State certification may participate in the Transition to Teaching program provided they meet the eligibility requirements in section 2312(1), i.e., they either have substantial, demonstrable career experience, or are recent college graduates (within three years of graduation).

Comment: One commenter recommended that the definition of a ``high-need subject'' not be limited to the proposed core academic subjects and special education and ESL, but rather include any subjects that a participating LEA determines to be high-need.

Discussion: We do not minimize the need for high-need schools in high-need LEAs to have teachers of other subjects. However, the Transition to Teaching program is intended to support the overall purpose and goal of NCLB: helping all students to achieve to high State academic standards so that no child is left behind. This program does so by providing financial support to help recruit, place, and train individuals from other career experiences to become highly qualified and effective teachers in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs through alternative route programs.

Consistent with the purpose of NCLB as a whole, we continue to believe it is important that those who will operate Transition to Teaching projects use program funds to recruit teachers who can help students to achieve in the core academic subjects that are of highest priority in NCLB. The ESEA defines these subjects in section 9101(11). We have expanded the permissible subject areas in which participants of this program may teach to include special education and English as a Second Language (ESL) because of the substantial need that many high-need LEAs have for teachers in these areas who can help students with disabilities and English language learners become proficient in the ESEA core academic subjects.

Change: None.

Comment: One commenter recommended that we clarify the repayment requirement in the Transition to Teaching statute because of recent confusion regarding its implementation.

Discussion: As section 2313(j) of the ESEA requires, we are in the process of drafting proposed requirements to govern the repayment of scholarships and other financial incentives by eligible participants who do not meet their three-year service obligation. These proposals will be published in the Federal Register for public review and comment before they are issued as final.

Change: None.

Note: This notice does not solicit applications. In any year in which we choose to use these priorities and requirements, we invite applications through a notice in the Federal Register. When inviting applications we designate each priority as absolute, competitive preference, or invitational. The effect of each type of priority follows:

Absolute priority: Under an absolute priority we consider only applications that meet the priority (34 CFR 75.105(c)(3)).

Competitive preference priority: Under a competitive preference priority we give competitive preference to an application by either (1) Awarding additional points, depending on how well or the extent to which the application meets the competitive priority (34 CFR 75.105(c)(2)(i); or (2) selecting an application that meets the competitive priority over an application of comparable merit that does not meet the priority (34 CFR 75.105(c)(2)(ii)).

Invitational priority: Under an invitational priority we are particularly interested in applications that meet the invitational priority. However, we do not give an application that meets the invitational priority a competitive or absolute preference over other applications (34 CFR 75.105(c)(1)).

Priorities

Priority 1--State Projects to Create or Expand, and Then Implement, Alternative Pathways to Teacher Certification

This priority supports projects designed and implemented by an SEA or a consortium of SEAs and the respective teacher certification agency of each State (if different from the SEA) to create or expand, and then implement, alternative pathways to certification. The project period is up to five years. Grantees will need to conduct both of the following activities:

(a) Create alternatives to the State's traditional certification requirements. In conducting this activity, States are encouraged to develop a variety of alternative pathways to certification as important options in their menu of State-approved procedures for teacher certification and licensure. For example, competency-based alternative routes would permit talented individuals interested in teaching to become fully certified through rigorous assessments of their content and professional teaching competence, thereby enabling LEAs to recruit from a larger and more talented pool of prospective teachers.

(b) Use the alternative routes to recruit individuals from groups eligible to participate in the Transition to Teaching program. Funded projects also would, among other things, need to work with participating high-need LEAs to--

(1) Increase the number and quality of mid-career changers, recent college graduates who have not majored in education, and qualified paraprofessionals recruited to teach high-need subjects (such as mathematics, science, and special education) in identified high-need LEAs (which may include LEAs that are charter schools), particularly those in urban and rural areas; and

(2) Provide these newly hired teachers with the support they need to become certified and effective teachers who will choose to make teaching their new long-term profession.

In particular, SEAs receiving project funds must--

(i) Target recruitment efforts on, and rigorously screen, candidates in areas where participating high-need LEAs have documented teacher shortages (e.g., mathematics, science, and special education);

(ii) Place prospective teachers only in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs;

(iii) Prepare individuals for specific positions in specific LEAs and place them in these positions early in the training process;

(iv) Ensure that recruited teachers receive the specific training they need to become fully certified or licensed teachers; and

(v) Have recruited teachers participate in a well-supervised induction period that may include the support of experienced, trained mentors.

Priority 2--District Projects to Streamline Teacher Hiring Systems, Timelines, and Processes

This priority supports projects by one or more high-need LEAs to streamline their hiring systems, timelines, and processes. The project period is up to five years. A participating high-need LEA will need to conduct both of the following activities:

(a) Examine its current hiring system, processes, and policies to identify the critical barriers to hiring highly qualified teachers. The lack of highly qualified teachers in most urban and rural LEAs has often been attributed to their difficulty in recruiting interested and qualified individuals. However, recent research indicates that the problem may not be one of recruitment but may stem from inefficient and untimely LEA hiring systems and processes. This is especially true in high-poverty LEAs and schools--the very LEAs and schools the Transition to Teaching program is targeted to serve. Accordingly, each participating LEA will need to examine its current hiring processes and policies and, based upon that examination, identify the critical barriers to hiring highly qualified teachers.

(b) Design and implement efforts to remove the identified barriers and put in place systems that streamline and revamp the hiring process. In conducting this activity, LEAs are encouraged to create an efficient and timely applicant hiring process with a strong data tracking system and clear hiring goals. These efforts also should involve negotiating policy reforms that remove critical barriers, such as delayed notification of vacancies and seniority and retirement rules.

Participating LEAs also will carry out the requirements of the Transition to Teaching program by recruiting nontraditional candidates, using the streamlined hiring system to hire these individuals for teaching in high-need schools, working with them to achieve full State certification, and retaining them for at least three years.

Requirements for the FY 2004 and Future Year Grant Competitions and Award of Funds

In order to promote both a fair and efficient program competition and appropriate uses of Transition to Teaching program funds, the Deputy Under Secretary announces the following requirements to govern grant competitions and awards in FY 2004 and later years. For the most part, these requirements are the same as those that the Department announced in the Federal Register on June 17, 2002 (67 FR 41221-41224) and successfully used for the FY 2002 Transition to Teaching program competition and grants awarded under it. The Notice Inviting Applications for New Awards for Fiscal Year 2002 is available on the Internet at the following site: <http://www.gpoaccess.gov/fr/index.html>.

The only exceptions concern:

<BULLET A requirement, discussed in the section ``Application Content'', under which each applicant will need to include in its application a statement that each participating LEA will, rather than intends to, hire project participants, assuming that it has positions to fill and is satisfied that the participants are qualified to teach these subjects;

<BULLET A requirement discussed in the section ``Participant Eligibility'', that closes a loophole that has permitted some grantees to recruit existing teachers into their projects; and <BULLET Use of the average percentage of teachers with waivers of State certification requirements in all LEAs, rather than the average percentage in only high-poverty LEAs--as reflected in State reports submitted to the Department under section 207 of the HEA--as the measure of when an LEA with the required degree of poverty has a ``high percentage'' of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing, and so is a high-need LEA under this program.

1. Application content. Section 2313(d)(2)(C) of the ESEA requires applicants to describe in their applications how they will use the funds received to recruit and retain individuals to teach in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs. In addition, section 2313(i) of the ESEA requires that individuals who participate in training provided under this program serve in a high-need school operated by a high-need LEA for at least three years. In this regard, an implicit purpose of this program and the ESEA as a whole is to help ensure that all students are able to achieve to high standards, principally in the core academic subjects defined in section 9101(11) of the ESEA. To ensure that all grantees properly implement their projects, each applicant will need to include information in its application, as the Secretary may require, that confirms that it (if it is an LEA) or each LEA with which it will work--

(a) Is a high-need LEA;

(b) Has identified for the grantee the high-need subjects for which teachers are needed; and

(c) Will hire individuals recruited through the project to meet the LEA's teaching needs, assuming that the LEA still has positions to fill and is satisfied that the individuals are qualified to teach those subjects.

2. Definitions. High-need LEA. Section 2102(3) of the ESEA defines ``high-need LEA'' to mean an LEA that--

(a)(1) Serves not fewer than 10,000 children from families with incomes below the poverty line, or (2) for which not less than 20 percent of the children served by the LEA are from families with incomes below the poverty line; and

(b) For which there is (1) A high percentage of teachers not teaching in the academic subjects or grade levels the teachers were trained to teach, or (2) a high percentage of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing.

An applicant (or a grantee, should the grantee wish to add an LEA to a Transition to Teaching project after receiving a grant award) will need to demonstrate to the Department that each LEA that will participate in the project satisfies the definition of high-need LEA. The applicant (or grantee) will need to do so on the basis of the most recent data available in the year in which the Department approves the LEA's participation in the project. In this regard, we announce the following for each of these two components of the definition--

<BULLET For component (a) of ``high-need LEA,'' the only consistent available data for all LEAs that reflect the statutory requirement for use of the total number or percentage of individuals age 5-17 from families below the poverty line (as the term is defined in section 9101(33) of the ESEA) are data from the U.S. Census Bureau. Therefore, absent a showing of alternative LEA data that meets this statutory definition, the eligibility of an LEA as a ``high-need LEA'' under component (a) must be determined on the basis of the most recent satisfactory Census Bureau data; we will identify the year of these data to be used in any announcement of a program competition for awards in FY 2004 and future years. (We will provide further information on this subject in the application package for this program that will be available for each competition. This information will include the Internet web site where one may obtain the LEA poverty data that the Census Bureau reports, and the kinds of poverty data the Department will accept for any LEA that is not included on this Internet web site.)

<BULLET For component (b)(1) of the definition of ``high-need LEA,'' we interpret this phrase ``not teaching in the academic subjects or grade levels that the teachers were trained to teach'' as equivalent to ``a high percentage of teachers teaching out of field.'' The Department does not have available to it suitable data with which to define what a high percentage is. Therefore, LEAs that rely on component (b)(1) will need to demonstrate to the Department's satisfaction that they have a high percentage of teachers teaching out of field. The Department will review this aspect of an LEA's proposed eligibility on a case-by-case basis. To avoid uncertainty, an LEA might choose instead to try to meet this eligibility test under component (b)(2).

<BULLET For component (b)(2) of ``high-need LEA,'' the best data available to the Department on the percentage of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing come from the reports on the quality of teacher preparation that States annually provide to the Department in October of each year under section 207 of the HEA. In these reports, States provide the percentage of teachers in their LEAs teaching on waivers of State certification, both on a statewide basis and in high-poverty LEAs. For purposes of the program's FY 2002 competition, an LEA had a ``high percentage'' of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing if the percentage of teachers on waivers, as the LEA reported to the State for purposes of the State's October 2001 report to the Secretary, was at least the national average percentage of teachers on waivers in high-poverty LEAs--11 percent.

For reasons expressed in the ``Analysis of Comments and Changes'' section, for purposes of the FY 2004 and subsequent program competitions, an LEA has a ``high percentage'' of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing if the percentage of teachers on waivers, as the LEA reported to the State for purposes of the State's latest HEA report to the Secretary, was at least the national average percentage of teachers on waivers of State certification, for all LEAs--rather than just for high-poverty LEAs. Therefore, for the FY 2004 competition, an LEA will be considered to have a high percentage of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing if the percentage of teachers on waivers that it reported to the State for purposes of the State's October 2003 HEA report was at least six percent.

Note: For that October 2003 report, teachers on a waiver of State certification requirements included uncertified teachers who were participating in State-approved alternative route programs.

Based on information in future HEA State reports, we will publish the most current national percentage of uncertified teachers in all LEAs in any announcement of a program competition for awards in future years. To satisfy component (b)(2) of the definition of a high-need LEA, an LEA will need to be able to confirm that, at the time it would participate in a Transition to Teaching project, it has at least the percentage of uncertified teachers as the Department announces is a ``high percentage'' based on the most currently available HEA section 207 State reports.

High-need subject. For purposes of the Transition to Teaching program, a high-need subject means English, reading or language arts, mathematics, science, foreign languages, civics and government, economics, arts, history, geography, special education, and English as a second language (ESL). These subjects include the ``core academic subjects'' specified in section 9101(11) of the ESEA and the subjects of special education and ESL.

High-need SEA. Section 2313(c) of the ESEA requires the Department to give priority in awarding grants under the program to applications from ``a partnership or consortium that includes a high-need State educational agency or local educational agency.'' However, the ESEA does not define the term high-need SEA. As was the case for the FY 2002 competition, for purposes of this priority we define a high-need SEA as an SEA of a State that includes at least one high-need LEA.

Highly qualified paraprofessional. For purposes of the Transition to Teaching program, a highly qualified paraprofessional means a paraprofessional who has not less than two years of--

(A) Experience in a classroom, and

(B) Postsecondary education or demonstrated competence in a field or academic subject for which there is a significant shortage of qualified teachers.

3. Application review process. Section 2313(b) of the ESEA provides that an eligible applicant for a Transition to Teaching grant must be--

(a) An SEA;

(b) A high-need LEA;

(c) A for-profit or nonprofit organization that has a proven record of effectively recruiting and retaining highly qualified teachers, in a partnership with a high-need LEA or with an SEA;

(d) An institution of higher education (IHE), in a partnership with a high-need LEA or with an SEA;

(e) A regional consortium of SEAs; or

(f) A consortium of high-need LEAs.

Given the wide variety of entities that may apply for grants under this program, the Department expects the scope of proposed recruitment, training, and placement efforts to vary widely. For example, a nonprofit organization might propose activities in various communities throughout the nation, an SEA might propose activities to be conducted on a statewide basis, and an LEA might propose activities that will focus on its own teaching needs. It is likely that if applications from these various entities were reviewed in a single application pool, reviewers would have difficulty evaluating the relative merits of the projects. In addition, the Department is interested in supporting projects of different types that can serve as potential models of recruitment, training, and retention through alternative routes to teaching. Given these factors, and in order to evaluate fairly the relative merits of applications proposing projects of such widely varied scope, we will review applications in FY 2004 and later years as we did in the FY 2002 program competition--in three different applicant pools, depending on whether the LEAs to benefit from the project are located--

- (a) In more than one State;
- (b) Statewide or in more than one area of a State; or
- (c) In a single area of a State.

When the Department announces a competition, it will provide an estimate of the number and size of awards to be made from applications in each category. However, the Department intends to reserve the right to adjust these estimates based on the number of high-quality applications in each pool and as a whole, without regard to the relative scores of applications in each of the three applicant pools.

Finally, because of the variety of entities that may apply for grants under this program, it is possible that an LEA might be the recipient of services under both (1) its own application and (2) the application of the SEA of the State in which the LEA is located, an educational service agency that is a high-need LEA, or a nonprofit organization. In this event, should those applications propose duplicative activities the Department will offer the LEA a choice of receiving its own grant award or participating in the other entity's project. Should the LEA choose to receive its own award, the Department will adjust the other entity's grant award accordingly.

4. Participant eligibility. Section 2312(1) provides that an individual is eligible to participate in the Transition to Teaching program if the individual (a) has substantial, demonstrable career experience, including as a highly qualified paraprofessional, or (b) is a graduate of an IHE who--

- (1) Has graduated not more than three years before applying to join a Transition to Teaching project in order to become a teacher, and
- (2) In the case of an individual wishing to teach in a secondary school, has completed an academic major (or courses totaling an equivalent number of credit hours) in the academic subject that the individual will teach.

The purpose of the Transition to Teaching program is to provide financial support to enable grantees to recruit individuals from their non-teaching positions and, through alternative routes to State certification, help high-need LEAs to hire and retain them as teachers of high-need subjects. Indeed, section 2313(d)(2)(E) requires each application to describe how the proposed project will increase the number of highly qualified teachers teaching high-need academic subjects (in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs). Consistent with this provision and the program's overall purpose, individuals who already have State teacher certification or licenses are not eligible to participate in Transition to Teaching projects. Individuals who are teaching on a provisional, temporary, or emergency license prior to recruitment into the program, are eligible to participate provided they meet the eligibility requirements in section 2312(1) of the ESEA and thereby qualify either as a mid-career professional or a recent college graduate (within three years of graduation).

5. Evaluation and accountability. Section 2314 of the ESEA requires grantees to submit to the Department and to the Congress interim and final reports at the end of the third and fifth years of the grant period, respectively. Subparagraph (b) of section 2314 provides that these reports must contain the results of the grantee's interim and final evaluations, which must describe the extent to which high-need LEAs that received funds through the grant have met their goals relating to teacher recruitment and retention as described in the project application.

However, while each funded project must promote the recruitment and retention of new teachers in specific identified LEAs, eligible grant recipients are not limited to LEAs. Therefore, it is possible that one or more funded projects will not provide funding to participating LEAs. In order that all project evaluations provide relevant information on the extent to which the project is meeting these LEA goals, the interim and final evaluations will need to describe the extent to which LEAs that either receive program funds or otherwise participate in funded projects have met their teacher recruitment and retention goals.

6. Limitation on indirect costs. The success of the Transition to Teaching Program depends upon how well grantees and the high-need LEAs with which they work recruit, hire, train, and retain highly qualified individuals from other professions and backgrounds to become teachers in high-need subjects. If the program is to achieve its purpose, we need to ensure that all appropriated funds are used as effectively as possible. To do so, we believe it is necessary to place a reasonable limitation on the amount of program funds that grant recipients may use to reimburse themselves for the indirect costs of program activities. Therefore, we place a reasonable limit on the indirect cost rate that all grantees and other recipients of program funds may use in determining the amount of indirect costs they may charge to their Transition to Teaching awards. As was the case for grants awarded under the FY 2002 competition, this limit is the lesser of eight percent or the recipient's negotiated restricted indirect cost rate.

For reasons we have offered in a limited number of other competitive grant programs that focus on improving teacher quality, we believe that a similar limitation on a recipient's indirect costs is necessary here to ensure that Transition to Teaching program funds are used to secure the new teachers that Congress intended. See, e.g., the discussion of (1) 34 CFR 611.61, as proposed, that governs the Teacher Quality Enhancement Grants program authorized by Title II, part A of the HEA (65 FR 6936, 6940 (February 11, 2000)), and (2) requirements for the FY 2002 grants competition under the School Leadership program authorized by Title II, part A, subpart 5 of the ESEA (67 FR 36159, 36162 (May 23, 2002)), and under this Transition to Teaching program (67 FR 41223-24 (June 17, 2002)).

Transition to Teaching Program Statute

Title II, Part C, Subpart 1 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA), as amended by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 (P. L. 107.110)

In placing the participants in the schools, the entity shall give priority to the schools that are located in areas with the highest percentages of students from families with incomes below the poverty line.

(2) SUPPLEMENT, NOT SUPPLANT- Funds made available under this section shall be used to supplement, and not supplant, State and local public funds expended for teacher recruitment and retention programs, including programs to recruit the teachers through alternative routes to certification.

Application Instructions and Forms

General Instructions

This application package provides applicants seeking a grant in FY 2006 under the Transition to Teaching program with instructions and the necessary forms for submitting an application. In addition, this application package contains Questions and Answers to highlight and clarify important information about the program.

Under this program, we award competitive grants to eligible entities to help high-need schools in high-need local educational agencies (LEAs) meet their teacher quality challenges by encouraging the development and expansion of alternative routes to full State teacher certification, and recruiting, training, and retaining eligible individuals as teachers.

Applicants who apply for a grant under this program must comply with the applicable statutory requirements, address the selection criteria contained in the Notice Inviting Applications for New Awards for FY 2006, as published in the Federal Register on January 26, 2006, and design a project that will meet the needs of eligible high-need LEAs that will participate in the project.

An applicant also may propose activities to address the competitive preference priorities that also are contained in this Notice, but they are not required to do so.

The following sections of the application package provide specific instructions and tools to help applicants provide the information required under sections 2312(2); 2313(d)(2); and 2313(g)(2) of the statute concerning the definition of a high-need LEA, application contents, and authorized activities, respectively. For example, the Project Narrative section describes the statutory required program components and authorized activities that must be included in an application. Also provided is a high-need LEA eligibility verification form and instructions for applicants to provide information to show that participating LEAs meet the statutory definition of a high-need LEA. Applicants may use this form also to confirm that they will meet the requirements concerning recruitment of teachers to teach high-need subjects and that the LEAs identified to participate in the project will hire these teachers, assuming they have vacancies and are satisfied with the qualifications of the participants. These forms are optional; an applicant may use any format it desires to submit the required information.

TRANSITION TO TEACHING PROGRAM FY 2006 COMPETITION FOR GRANTS

Questions and Answers

GENERAL APPLICATION INFORMATION

1. Must I notify the Department of my intent to apply?

The Secretary strongly encourages each potential applicant to notify the Department with a short e-mail indicating the applicant's intent to submit an application for funding. This will give the Department a better understanding of the number of entities that intend to apply for funding under this grant, and allow for a more efficient process for reviewing grant applications. The e-mail need not include information regarding the content of the proposed application, only the applicant's intent to submit it. The Secretary requests that this e-mail notification be sent no later than Friday, March 21, 2006, to the following e-mail address: Transitiontoteaching@ed.gov. Applicants that fail to provide this e-mail notification may still apply for funding.

2. Which Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number applies to my application?

The CFDA number for the Transition to Teaching program is 84.350. In addition, each project is further identified by a letter code based on the geographic scope of the project.

84.350A is for local projects, i.e., those that serve one eligible high-need local educational agency (LEA) or two or more eligible high-need LEAs in a single area of a state;

84.350B is for statewide projects, i.e., those that serve eligible high-need LEAs statewide or eligible high-need LEAs in more than one area of a state; and 84.350C is for national/regional projects, i.e., those that serve eligible high-need LEAs in more than one state.

3. How will the Department select applications to be funded?

Applications will be evaluated by a three-person technical review panel and scored according to the program's selection criteria contained in the Notice Inviting Applications for New Awards for Fiscal Year (FY) 2006, as published in the Federal Register on January 26, 2006. Applicants are strongly encouraged to review these criteria carefully and to develop responses that fully and clearly address each criterion. An applicant can earn up to 100 points for responses to the selection criteria. An applicant can earn up to 25 additional points for responding to the competitive preference priorities that also are described in this Notice.

4. What are the competitive preference priorities for the FY 2006 competition, and how many additional points may an applicant earn by addressing them?

The competitive preference priorities and available points for the FY 2006 competition are:

- (1) Partnerships or consortia that include a high-need LEA or a high-need State educational agency (SEA) (defined as an SEA of a State with at least one high-need LEA) (5 points);
- (2) State projects to create or expand and then implement alternative pathways to teacher certification (up to 20 points); and
- (3) LEA projects to streamline teacher hiring systems, timelines, and processes (up to 20 points).

An applicant is not required to propose activities that address the competitive preference priorities. However, applicants that address these priorities can earn additional points by doing so. NOTE: Applicants may receive additional points by addressing either competitive preference priority (2) or (3) above, but may not address both (2) and (3).

5. Where in the application does an applicant address the competitive preference priorities?

For Competitive Preference Priority 1, an applicant identifies the high-need LEA(s) and high-need SEA with which it has an active partnership – or that it is a high-need LEA or high-need SEA and has an active partnership with other entities – in a clearly identified section of the application narrative.

For Competitive Preference Priority 2 or Competitive Preference Priority 3, an applicant addresses the priority in a separate section of the application narrative entitled “Competitive Preference Priority “2” or “3”. In addition, the applicant may wish to include Information related to the competitive priority in responding to the selection criteria.

These sections are included in the overall application page limit.

6. What is the invitational priority and where in the application does the applicant address the invitation priority?

The invitation priority focuses on an area of particular interest to the Department. This priority supports projects that focus on the recruitment, preparation, placement, support, and retention of mid-career professionals, including highly qualified paraprofessionals, and recent college graduates to serve as mathematics or science teachers in high schools that are high-need schools in high-need LEAs. An applicant is not required to propose activities that address the invitational priority and additional points will not be awarded.

The applicant addresses the invitational priority in a separate section of the application narrative entitled “Invitational Priority”. In addition, the applicant may wish to include Information related to the invitational priority in responding to the selection criteria.

This section is included in the overall application page limit.

ELIGIBILITY FOR GRANTS

7. Who is eligible to receive a Transition to Teaching grant?

The Department may award a Transition to Teaching grant to any of the following:

- A State educational agency;

- A high-need local educational agency; including an eligible charter school;

- A for-profit or nonprofit organization that has a proven record of effectively recruiting and retaining highly qualified teachers, in a partnership with a high-need local educational agency or with a State educational agency;

- An institution of higher education, in a partnership with a high-need local educational agency or with a State educational agency;

- A regional consortium of State educational agencies; or

- A consortium of high-need local educational agencies.

8. May an existing grantee apply in this competition for another Transition to Teaching program grant?

Section 2313(e) of the ESEA provides: “The Secretary may make grants under this section for periods of 5 years. At the end of the 5-year period for such a grant, the grant recipient may apply for an additional grant under this section.”

The Department has not issued regulations that define or otherwise limit the scope of this provision.

At minimum, this statute prohibits a Transition to Teaching program grantee (including an eligible partnership or consortium of high-need LEAs or SEAs) from applying for a second grant until the first project has ended. Thus, the statute precludes a high-need LEA, high-need SEA, or existing partnership or consortium that already has received a Transition grant from applying for another Transition grant until its current project is over.

However where a high-need LEA, SEA, IHE, or nonprofit organization, either individually or as part of a partnership, now has a Transition grant, section 2313(e) does not preclude that entity from (1) joining with new entities to form a new partnership or consortium, and then (2) applying for a new program grant that would implement significantly different project activities. For example, a large urban high-need LEA, either as a sole grantee or that is partnering with an IHE or non-profit organization in a currently funded project, could join with other entities in a new partnership and apply for funds to recruit Transition to Teaching participants to become teachers in new subjects or different high-need areas of the district.

9. What is a State Education Agency (SEA)?

The Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), as amended by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001, defines a State educational agency as “the agency primarily responsible for the State supervision of public elementary schools and secondary schools.”

10. What is a “high-need local educational agency (LEA)?

For the Transition to Teaching program, a high-need LEA is an LEA that meets two specific requirements—one addressing poverty and the other addressing the quality of the LEAs current teacher workforce. Specifically, a “high-need” LEA is one—

(1)(a) that serves not fewer than 10,000 children from families with incomes below the poverty line; or

(1)(b) for which not less than 20 percent of the children served by the LEA are from families with incomes below the poverty line;

AND

(2)(a) for which there is a high percentage of teachers not teaching in the subjects or grade levels that the teachers were trained to teach; or

(2)(b) for which there is a high percentage of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing.

Every Transition to Teaching grantee must work to ensure that all project participants are hired to work in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs.

11. What data are needed to verify that an LEA meets the “high-need” requirement?

The definition of a high-need LEA and an explanation of the data needed to confirm that the LEA meets this definition are addressed in the Notice of Final Priorities and Requirements published in the Federal Register on January 26, 2006. They also are addressed in the Instructions for Preparing the Program Narrative provided in the application package.

Each application must confirm that all LEAs identified as participants in the project are high-need LEAs. An LEA must meet the components for both poverty (1a or 1b above) and quality of the current teacher workforce (2a or 2b above) of the definition of “high-need LEA.”

To determine if an LEA meets the poverty component, an applicant must use the most current Census Bureau data. The link to Census Bureau data is

<http://www.census.gov/housing/saipe/sd03/>

The Department also has these data available on its website at:

<http://www.ed.gov/programs/lsl/eligibility.html>.

The Department will consider other poverty data, on a case-by-case basis, ONLY IF an LEA (such as a charter school that a State considers to be an LEA) is not included in the Census Bureau data base.

For the component on the quality of the LEA’s current teacher workforce, applicants should obtain information from appropriate officials in each LEA regarding the LEA’s percentage of teachers teaching out of field or teaching on waivers of State certification or licensure. The Department will determine whether or not a district has a high percentage of teachers teaching out of field on a case-by-case basis. For teachers on waivers of State certification or licensure, the Department considers two and one half percent (2.5%) or higher to be a “high percentage of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing”.

12. Does the definition of “high-need LEA” include a regional service agency, intermediate educational unit, or similar agency that is established by the State to provide administrative and technical assistance and support to LEAs?

Only in rare circumstances. These agencies may be considered LEAs under the ESEA since this law defines LEA to include any public authority “legally constituted within a State for either administrative control or direction of, or to perform a service function for, public [schools] in a city, county, township, school district, or other political subdivision of a State, or for a combination of school districts or counties that is recognized in a State as an administrative agency for its public schools”.

However, these agencies will rarely be “high-need” LEAs since they rarely will employ teachers and be able to meet the statutory requirement of having “a high percentage of teachers teaching out-of-field or with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing”.

13. Which eligible applicants (see Question 7) are eligible to receive additional points under Competitive Preference Priority 2 or 3?

Only an applicant that is an SEA (as the term is defined in Question 7) or a regional consortium of SEAs may receive additional points under Competitive Preference Priority 2 (State projects to create or expand and then implement alternative pathways to teacher certification). Hence, if the project is selected for a grant, only an SEA may be the grantee (fiscal agent).

Only an applicant that is a high-need LEA or consortia of high-need LEAs may receive additional points under Competitive Preference Priority 3 (LEA projects to streamline teacher hiring systems, timelines, and processes). Hence, if the project is selected for a grant, only a high-need LEA may be the grantee (fiscal agent). Any other entity may be a partner with one of these applicants.

PARTICIPANT ELIGIBILITY

14. Who is eligible to participate in projects funded by the Transition to Teaching program?

Eligible participants include:

- An individual who (a) has substantial, demonstrable career experience, including a highly qualified paraprofessional, or (b) is a graduate of an institution of higher education who—
 - (i) has graduated not more than three years before applying to participate in a Transition to Teaching project; and

(ii) in the case of an individual wishing to teach in a secondary school, has completed an academic major (or courses totaling an equivalent number of credit hours) in the core academic subject that the individual will teach.

- An individual who is teaching on a provisional, temporary, or emergency license prior to recruitment into a Transition to Teaching project, and who qualifies either as a mid-career professional or a recent college graduate.

15. Are individuals who are fully certified or licensed as teachers eligible to participate in the Transition to Teaching Program?

No. The program is designed to facilitate the certification or licensing of teachers, thereby increasing the number of highly qualified teachers who can teach in high-need schools in high-need LEAs.

16. Who is considered to be a highly qualified paraprofessional?

A highly qualified paraprofessional means a paraprofessional who has not less than two (2) years of —

- (a) Experience in a classroom; and
- (b) Postsecondary education or demonstrated competence in a field or academic subject for which there is a significant shortage of qualified teachers.

17. Are there any requirements that program participants must agree to meet?

Yes. The Transition to Teaching program statute requires all program participants to teach for at least three (3) years in a high-need school operated by a high-need LEA.

18. May projects place teachers in high-need schools that are not operated by high-need LEAs?

No, both the school and the LEA must meet their respective definition of “high-need”.

19. Can participants in the Transition to Teaching Program who are not fully certified meet the “highly qualified teacher” requirement of NCLB and be placed in teaching positions?

Yes, the Department's guidance on meeting the highly qualified teacher requirements of NCLB permits teachers who are not yet fully certified to be considered to meet the certification requirements in the NCLB definition of a highly qualified teacher if they are participating in an alternative route to certification program. A teacher in an alternate route to certification program may be considered highly qualified if the teacher holds at least a bachelor's degree, has already demonstrated subject-matter competency in the core academic subject(s) the teacher will be teaching, and is participating in an alternate route to certification program in which the teacher:

- receives, before and while teaching, high-quality professional development that is sustained, intensive, and classroom-focused in order to have a positive and lasting impact on classroom instruction;
- participates in a program of intensive supervision that consists of structured guidance and regular ongoing support for teachers or in a teacher mentoring program;
- assumes functions as a teacher for a period not to exceed three years; and
- demonstrates satisfactory progress toward full certification as prescribed by the State.

The State must ensure, through its certification and licensure process, that these provisions are met [Section 200.56(a)(2) of the Title I regulations, December 2, 2002]. If the teacher does not complete the alternative certification program within the three-year period, the teacher is no longer considered to be highly qualified 20. Are participants required to teach certain high-need subjects? If so, what are they?

Yes. For purposes of the Transition to Teaching program, a high-need subject at all grade levels (elementary, middle and high school) means English, reading or language arts, mathematics, science, foreign languages, civics and government, economics, arts, history, geography, special education, and English as a second language (ESL). These subjects include the “core academic subjects” specified in section 9101(11) of the ESEA in addition to special education and ESL.

PROGRAM ACTIVITIES

21. What activities are authorized under the Transition to Teaching Program?

Applicants are required to carry out a program that includes two or more of the program's authorized activities. These activities include: recruitment and retention activities, including developing long term strategies to recruit and retain teachers; payment of recruitment costs or financial incentives; assistance to ensure participants are placed in high-need schools and teaching subjects which they are qualified to teach; pre- and post-induction or support activities, and collaborating with Institutions of higher education to facilitate teacher recruitment, credentialing, and retention.

An applicant has tremendous flexibility to use these authorized activities to design a project that meets the needs of the particular high-need LEAs to be served. Applicants should note, however, that program funds must be used to supplement, and not supplant, State, and local funds spent to support teacher recruitment and retention programs, including programs to recruit teachers through alternative routes to certification.

22. Is there a limit on the number of years during which an applicant can recruit participants?

No. However, the program statute clearly intends that funded projects work to ensure the certification or licensing of participants that are recruited into the projects. Therefore, consistent with the program statute, an applicant must ensure that its recruitment activities are designed to provide adequate time for participants to receive the training and support needed for participants to achieve this outcome.

FINANCIAL INCENTIVES AND REPAYMENT

23. Are projects allowed to provide financial incentives to program participants?

Yes. Section 2313(g)(2)(A) of the ESEA permits a grant recipient to use program funds to provide scholarships, stipends, bonuses, and other financial incentives to all eligible participants in an amount not to exceed $5,000 per participant. These financial incentives must be linked to participation in activities that have proven effective in retaining teachers in high-need schools operated by high-need LEAs.

24. What responsibility does the receipt of a financial incentive place on a participant?

Under this program, participants who receive a scholarship, stipend, bonus, or other financial incentive but fail to teach for at least three years in a high-need school operated by a high-need LEA (the participant's "service obligation") are responsible for repaying all or a portion of the amount they received.

The Department has not yet published rules on what common requirements and repayment agreement should govern the scholarship, stipend, bonus, or other financial incentives that project participants receive out of Transition to Teaching program funds. Until it announces these requirements, the Department is having grantees develop their own agreements with project participants under which participants would repay the grantees for any scholarship, stipend, bonus, or other financial incentives they had received should they not meet the program's service obligation. The Department has announced its intent that any common requirements it establishes would apply only to participants who had not yet received these financial incentives.

BUDGET

25. Must applicants describe their proposed multiyear project activities and provide a multiyear budget?

Yes. Section 75.112(b) of the Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) requires that applications include "a narrative that describes how and when, in each budget period of the project, the applicant plans to meet each objective of the project." For funded projects, the Department will use this information both for purposes of monitoring and providing assistance, and for determining if a grantee has made substantial progress toward meeting the approved application and thereby, under section 75.253 of EDGAR, deserve a continuation award.

Applicants for new awards also must provide a detailed proposed budget and budget narrative using ED form SF 524 for all budget years of the proposed project, not just the first year. Before awarding a grant for the initial budget year, the Department will determine the size of award a grant recipient will receive for each year of the project (assuming availability of appropriations and that its receipt of a continuation award for future years is warranted). See sections 75.117, 75.232, and 75.253 of EDGAR.

Applicants should include in their proposed budgets costs for attending the annual project directors' meeting in Washington, DC.

26. What information should applicants consider in planning their use of Transition to Teaching program funds?

Program funds may be used for any of the authorized activities described in section 2313(g) of the statute that would be needed to conduct an effective project. However, as applicants build their proposed budgets, they should be aware that all costs must conform to requirements in EDGAR and the applicable cost principles in Office of Management and Budget Circulars: A-21 for institutions of higher education, A-87 for State and local agencies, and A-122 for non-profit organizations. Among other things, these cost principles contain basic rules that all costs charged to federal grants must be “necessary and reasonable” for the purposes of carrying out authorized grant activities.

In addition, section 2313(h)(2) contains a requirement that program funds “shall be used to supplement, and not supplant, State and local public funds expended for teacher recruitment and retention programs, including programs to recruit teachers through alternative routes to certification.”

27. Is there a maximum that a grantee may charge for administrative costs?

The statute imposes a five percent (5%) limitation on the amount of administrative costs that a grantee (or any other entity) may charge to program funds. The Department does not have a standard definition of “administrative costs.” Therefore, applicants should use their own agency’s fiscal rules and procedures to determine what proposed costs are attributable to this category of costs and to adhere to the cost limitation.

28. Is there a restriction on the amount of indirect costs that may be charged to a Transition to Teaching program grant?

Yes. By rule, the Department requires that the maximum indirect cost rate that may be applied to grants under this program is eight percent (8%) or the recipient’s negotiated restricted indirect cost rate, whichever is less. See sections 75.563 and 75.564 of EDGAR for information on the restricted indirect cost rate.

29. How do I obtain an indirect cost rate?

If your organization has not established a restricted rate, you may request to negotiate one with the Department. Contact the Department’s Indirect Cost Group to begin the process. Its website <http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocfo/fipao/icgindex.html> contains contact information as well as specific information on indirect cost rates.

Since it may take several months before an indirect cost rate is negotiated, an applicant should use an indirect cost rate of no more than eight percent (8%) in the proposed budget. Be sure to note in the budget narrative that you are using a temporary indirect cost rate while you are negotiating a rate with the Department.

EVALUATION AND REPORTING

30. What are the program's evaluation and reporting requirements?

Section 2314 of the ESEA requires grantees to submit to the Secretary and to the Congress an interim and a final report at the end of the third and fifth years of the grant period, respectively. These reports must contain the results of the grantee's interim and final evaluations, which describe the extent to which LEAs that either receive program funds or otherwise participate in funded projects have met their teacher recruitment and retention goals.

The statute also requires that should the Department determine that a recipient of a grant has not made substantial progress in meeting project goals and objectives by the end of the third year of the grant period, it must revoke any payment made for the fourth year of the grant period and not make a payment for the fifth.

In addition, applicants are reminded that EDGAR requires grantees to submit an annual performance report that the Department will review to determine if a grantee is making substantial progress toward achievement of its approved objectives and thereby should receive a continuation award (see Question 24). The Department will provide further guidance to successful applicants to assist them in meeting these reporting requirements.

Instructions for Preparing the Project Narrative

Before preparing the narrative, applicants should review Section A of this application package, which includes the --

- Notice Inviting Applications for FY 2006
- Notice of Final Priorities and Requirements: Federal Register April 30, 2004, and
- Transition to Teaching Program statute.

The Notice Inviting Applications provides applicants with instructions for preparing and submitting the application, information describing the competitive and invitational priorities that have been established for this competition, the selection criteria that will be used to evaluate the application, and other pertinent information concerning the competition for awards.

It is expected that applicants will use the selection criteria to frame their project narratives. However, it is important that, when addressing the selection criteria, applicants describe how they will implement the statutorily required program components and authorized activities listed below.

Program Requirements and Authorized Activities

Applicants must at a minimum demonstrate how they will:

- Use project funds to develop a teacher corps or other program for recruiting and retaining new teachers from among, and only among eligible project participants (Sections 2313(d)(A)-(C), 2313(g)(1));
- Work in collaboration, as needed, with other institutions, organizations, or agencies, to (1) use recruitment strategies, (2) train, (3) place, (4) support, and (5) provide further induction assistance to program participants (Section 2313(d)(E));
- Help newly recruited individuals become certified or licensed teachers under provisions of State law (Section 2313(d)(D)); and
- Increase the number of highly qualified teachers teaching high-need academic subjects in high-need urban or rural LEAs (Section 2313(d)(e)).

To address the four components listed above the statute requires each applicant to conduct at least two of the following activities:

- Provide scholarships, stipends, bonuses, and other financial incentives that are linked to potential teachers' participation in activities that have proven effective in retaining teachers in high-need schools operated by high-need local educational agencies. These incentives may not exceed $5000 per participant and may be provided only in exchange for a commitment to teach in high need schools for at least three years or repay all or a portion of these funds as the Secretary shall require.

- Carrying out pre-and post-placement induction or support activities that have proven effective in recruiting and retaining teachers, such as:
 - teacher mentoring;
 - providing internships;
 - providing high-quality preservice coursework; and
 - providing high-quality, sustained, in-service professional development
- Carrying out placement and ongoing activities to ensure that teachers are placed in fields in which they are highly qualified to teach and placed in high-need schools.
- Paying costs associated with LEAs' recruitment, or providing financial incentives to prospective teachers.
- Collaborating with institutions of higher education in developing and implementing programs to facilitate teacher recruitment including teacher credentialing and teacher retention programs.
- Developing long-term recruitment and retention strategies, such as:
 - a statewide or regionwide clearinghouse for the recruitment and placement of teachers;
 - administrative structures to develop and implement State-approved programs to provide alternative routes to certification;
 - reciprocity agreements between two or more States for the certification of licensing of teachers, or
 - other long-term teacher recruitment and retention strategies; and
 - carrying out other programs, projects, and activities that are designed to be effective in recruiting and retaining teachers, and that the Secretary determines, by approving a program application, to be appropriate.

How applicants address the above listed program requirements and authorized activities is left to their own judgment, ingenuity, and imagination. However, applicants must address how they will meet these requirements within their responses to the selection criteria.

Other Program Requirements

High-Need LEA Eligibility

Each application must contain data confirming that it (if it is an LEA) and/or each LEA with which it will work, is a high-need LEA. The definition of a high-need LEA and an explanation of the data needed to meet this definition are fully described in the Notice of Final Priorities and Requirements published in the Federal Register on January 26, 2006.

Each LEA must meet both the poverty and teacher quality components of the definition of “high-need.” An optional table is provided below for submitting the required data. Applicants must either complete this table or use any other format that provides the required data. Note that for component B, the data source also needs to be provided.

Example:

Name of the LEA			Percent of poverty
Percent of teachers			A1	#	A2	%	AND	B1	%	B2	%
District XYZ			X	24,543						X	6.20
District ABC					X	23.54				X	12.43
Data Source for B1: (identify separately for each LEA)
Data Source for B2:			Waiver data submitted to State for State HEA Report (2005)

Instructions: High-need LEA Eligibility

Component A

A1: Provide data that demonstrate that the LEA (s) serves not fewer than 10,000 children from families with incomes below the poverty line; OR

A2: Provide data that demonstrate that the LEA (s) is one for which not less than 20 percent of the children served by the LEA are from families with incomes below the poverty line.

Data Source for A1 or A2:

The only consistent available data for all LEAs that reflect the statutory requirement for use of the total number or percentage of individuals age 5-17 from families below the poverty line are data from the U.S. Census Bureau. Therefore, unless an LEA is not included in the Census Bureau tables, the eligibility of an LEA as a “high-need LEA” under component (a) must be determined on the basis of the 2003 data from the U.S. Census Bureau.

Census Bureau Data: <http://www.census.gov/housing/saipe/sd03/> Applicants should review the README file at this link.

This link provides data for all listed LEAs needed for both components A1 and A2. The fourth column for each LEA provides the Estimated Number of Relevant Children 5 to 17 years old in Poverty Related to the Householder, needed to find that the LEA meets the poverty criterion for A1. To determine the poverty percentage for A2, the number in column 4, must be divided by the number in column 3, Population of Relevant Children 5 to 17 years of Age. (For the example below, 1282 would be divided by 4954 giving a percentage of 25.88, which would be recorded in A2 as making the LEA eligible by poverty rate.

Example:

02 00050 ABC SCHOOL DISTRICT	17243	4954	1282
sd00_ABC.dat

An additional link to Census data that provides the percent of children served by the LEA from families with incomes below the poverty line already calculated is available on the Department’s website at <http://www.ed.gov/programs/lsl/eligibility.html>.

Component B

Provide data that demonstrate that each participating LEA has a “high percentage” of teachers--

B1: Teaching out of field; OR

B2: With emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing.

Data Source for B1 or B2:

B1: The Department does not have suitable data with which to define a “high percentage” of teachers who are teaching “out-of-field.” Therefore, the Department will determine whether a district meets this aspect of the eligibility requirement on a case-by-case basis.

B2: For the FY 2006 competition, an LEA will be considered to have a “high percentage” of teachers with emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or licensing if the percentage of teachers on waivers of State certification or licensure (i.e., with an emergency, provisional, or temporary certification or license) that it reported to the State for the purposes of the State’s October 2005 Higher Education Act (HEA) report on the quality of teacher preparation in the State was at least two and one half (2.5) percent.

Data Confirming High-Need LEA Eligibility

(Applicants may use the optional form or create its own to document LEA high-need eligibility, LEA commitment, and high-need subjects. The form should follow the application narrative. See application checklist. This optional table does not count against the page limit requirement for the project narrative.)

Name of the LEA teachers	Percent of poverty				Percent of
LEA	A1	#	A2	%	AND	B1	%	B2	%
Data Source for B1: (identify separately for each LEA)
Data Source for B2:

High-Need Subject and LEA Commitment

Each applicant must confirm that it will meet the program requirements to recruit project participants to meet the need for teachers of high-need subjects in the LEAs participating in the project. Further, each applicant must confirm that the participating LEAs have indicated they will hire project participants if they have vacancies and are satisfied that the participants are qualified.

An applicant may confirm that it will meet these requirements by completing and submitting the checklist below.

_____ (check) The applicant confirms that all identified LEAs have identified the High-Need subjects they need individuals recruited through this program to teach, and that the applicant will recruit eligible participants to teach only these High-Need subjects.

_____ (check) The applicant confirms that each identified LEA will hire individuals recruited through this program to meet the LEA's teaching needs, assuming that the LEA still has positions to fill and is satisfied that the individuals are qualified to teach the High-Need subjects for which the LEA needs teachers.

Competitive Priorities

(Clearly identify responses to the priorities in the application narrative. An applicant's response to the competitive preference priority(ies) will be counted against the page limit requirement for the project narrative.)

For the purpose of this application, the Department has established three competitive priorities under the Transition to Teaching program for the FY 2006 competition for grants. One competitive priority is from the statute for this program and the other two competitive priorities are from the notice of final priorities and requirements for this program published in the Federal Register on April 30, 2004 (69 FR 24002, 24005). Please note that only an eligible entity may apply to conduct these priority activities. Applicants may apply for competitive preference priority 2 or 3, but not both.

An applicant is not required to propose activities that address the competitive preference priorities. However, applicants that address these priorities can earn additional points by doing so. The priorities and available points for the FY 2006 competition are --

- (1) Partnerships or consortia that include a high-need LEA or a high-need SEA. (5 points)
- (2) State projects to create or expand and then implement alternative pathways to teacher certification.
(up to 20 points)
- (3) District projects to streamline teacher hiring systems, timelines, and processes. (up to 20 points)

An applicant that chooses to respond to competitive preference priority 1 need only to identify the high-need LEA or high-need SEA that will participate in the project.

An applicant that chooses to respond to competitive preference priority 2 or 3 must indicate the priority it is addressing and provide a clear description of the specific activities it will conduct to implement this priority. An applicant that responds to a competitive preference priority must also address each of the selection criteria. As appropriate, the applicant may describe a single, unified set of activities to address the factors both for the competitive priority and the selection criterion. For example, the project's management plan may describe the activities that will be undertaken to assure that all project objectives (including the objectives specific to the priority activities) are achieved on time and within budget, noting the specific timelines and milestones for the priority activities and other major activities.

Invitational Priority

(An applicant's response to the invitational priority will be counted against the page limit requirement for the project narrative.)

The invitation priority focuses on an area of particular interest to the Department. This priority supports projects that focus on the recruitment, preparation, placement, support, and retention of mid-career professionals, including highly qualified paraprofessionals, and recent college graduates to serve as mathematics or science teachers in high schools that are high-need schools in high-need LEAs. An applicant is not required to propose activities that address the invitational priority and additional points will not be awarded.

An applicant that chooses to respond to the invitational priority must indicate the priority it is addressing and provide a clear description of the specific activities it will conduct to implement this priority. The applicant is to address the invitational priority in a separate section of the application narrative entitled "Invitational Priority". In addition, the applicant may wish to include information related to the invitational priority in responding to the selection criteria.

Selection Criteria

(Applicants must address each selection criterion in a clearly identified section in their application narrative. An applicant's response to the selection criteria will be counted against the page limit requirement for the project narrative)

The selection criteria outlined below will be used to evaluate the quality of applications submitted for funding. The full description of the selection criteria is contained in the Notice Inviting Applications included in Section A of this application package. Within each criterion, there are specific factors that will be used in evaluating the criterion. In addition, the applicant should note the earlier discussion regarding addressing the required program components and authorized activities when responding to the selection criteria.

The maximum score that an applicant can earn for the selection criteria is 100 points. The maximum score for each criterion is indicated in parenthesis following that criterion.

Abstract

(The application abstract will not be counted against the page limit requirement for the project narrative)

In addition to the project narrative, applicants are required to submit a project abstract. For non-electronic submissions, applicants must include in the abstract the name and address of the organization submitting the application and the name, phone number, and e-mail address of the contact person for the project.

The abstract narrative must not exceed one double-spaced page in 12 point font or larger and should use language that will be understood by a range of audiences. For all projects, include the project title (if applicable), and a summary of the goals, expected outcomes and contributions for research, policy, practice, etc. If appropriate, describe the population to be served.

Budget

(The budget and budget narrative will not be counted against the page limit requirement for the project narrative.)

Applicants must describe their proposed multiyear project activities and present a multiyear budget. Section 75.112 (b) of EDGAR requires applicants to present “a narrative that describes how and when, in each budget period of the project, the applicant plans to meet each objective of the project.” In addition, projects must complete form SF524 for all budget years of the proposed project. Applicants should include costs for attending the annual project directors’ meeting in Washington, DC.

Check “Yes” if you meet the requirements for novice applicants specified in the regulations in 34 CFR 75.225 and included on the attached page entitled “Definitions for Department of Education Supplemental Information for SF 424.” By checking “Yes” the applicant certifies that it meets these novice applicant requirements. Check “No” if you do not meet the requirements for novice applicants.

3. Human Subjects Research. (See I. A. “Definitions” in attached page entitled “Definitions for Department of Education Supplemental Information For SF 424.”)

If Not Human Subjects Research. Check “No” if research activities involving human subjects are not planned at any time during the proposed project period. The remaining parts of Item 3 are then not applicable.

If Human Subjects Research. Check “Yes” if research activities involving human subjects are planned at any time during the proposed project period, either at the applicant organization or at any other performance site or collaborating institution. Check “Yes” even if the research is exempt from the regulations for the protection of human subjects. (See I. B. “Exemptions” in attached page entitled “Definitions for Department of Education Supplemental Information For SF 424.”)

3a. If Human Subjects Research is Exempt from the Human Subjects Regulations. Check “Yes” if all the research activities proposed are designated to be exempt from the regulations. Insert the exemption number(s) corresponding to one or more of the six exemption categories listed in I. B. “Exemptions.” In addition, follow the instructions in II. A. “Exempt Research Narrative” in the attached page entitled “Definitions for Department of Education Supplemental Information For SF 424.”

3a. If Human Subjects Research is Not Exempt from Human Subjects Regulations. Check “No” if some or all of the planned research activities are covered (not exempt). In addition, follow the instructions in II. B. “Nonexempt Research Narrative” in the page entitled “Definitions for Department of Education Supplemental Information For SF 424

3a. Human Subjects Assurance Number. If the applicant has an approved Federal Wide (FWA) on file with the Office for Human Research Protections (OHRP), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, that covers the specific activity, insert the number in the space provided. If the applicant does not have an approved assurance on file with OHRP, enter “None.” In this case, the applicant, by signature on the SF-424, is declaring that it will comply with 34 CFR 97 and proceed to obtain the human subjects assurance upon request by the designated ED official. If the application is recommended/selected for funding, the designated ED official will request that the applicant obtain the assurance within 30 days after the specific formal request.

Note about Institutional Review Board Approval. ED does not require certification of Institutional Review Board approval with the application. However, if an application that involves non-exempt human subjects research is recommended/selected for funding, the designated ED official will request that the applicant obtain and send the certification to ED within 30 days after the formal request.

DEFINITIONS FOR DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION FOR SF 424 (Attachment to Instructions for Supplemental Information for SF 424)

Definitions:

Novice Applicant (See 34 CFR 75.225). For discretionary grant programs under which the Secretary gives special consideration to novice applications, a novice applicant means any applicant for a grant from ED that—

- Has never received a grant or subgrant under the program from which it seeks funding;
- Has never been a member of a group application, submitted in accordance with 34 CFR 75.127-75.129, that received a grant under the program from which it seeks funding; and
- Has not had an active discretionary grant from the Federal government in the five years before the deadline date for applications under the program. For the purposes of this requirement, a grant is active until the end of the grant's project or funding period, including any extensions of those periods that extend the grantee's authority to obligate funds.

In the case of a group application submitted in accordance with 34 CFR 75.127-75.129, a group includes only parties that meet the requirements listed above.

I. Definitions and Exemptions

A. Definitions.

A research activity involves human subjects if the activity is research, as defined in the Department's regulations, and the research activity will involve use of human subjects, as defined in the regulations.

—Research

The ED Regulations for the Protection of Human Subjects, Title 34, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 97, define research as “a systematic investigation, including research development, testing and evaluation, designed to develop or contribute to generalizable knowledge.” If an activity follows a deliberate plan whose purpose is to develop or contribute to generalizable knowledge it is research. Activities which meet this definition constitute research whether or not they are conducted or supported under a program that is considered research for other purposes. For example, some demonstration and service programs may include research activities.

—Human Subject

The regulations define human subject as “a living individual about whom an investigator (whether professional or student) conducting research obtains (1) data through intervention or interaction with the individual, or (2) identifiable private information.” (1) If an activity involves obtaining information about a living person by manipulating that person or that person's environment, as might occur when a new instructional technique is tested, or by communicating or interacting with the individual, as occurs with surveys and interviews, the definition of human subject is met. (2) If an activity involves obtaining private information about a living person in such a way that the information can be linked to that individual (the identity of the subject is or may be readily determined by the investigator or associated with the information), the definition of human subject is met. [Private information includes information about behavior that occurs in a context in which an individual can reasonably expect that no observation or recording is taking place, and information which has been provided for specific purposes by an individual and which the individual can reasonably expect will not be made public (for example, a school health record).]

B. Exemptions.

Research activities in which the only involvement of human subjects will be in one or more of the following six categories of exemptions are not covered by the regulations:

(1) Research conducted in established or commonly accepted educational settings, involving normal educational practices, such as (a) research on regular and special education instructional strategies, or (b) research on the effectiveness of or the comparison among instructional techniques, curricula, or classroom management methods.

(2) Research involving the use of educational tests (cognitive, diagnostic, aptitude, achievement), survey procedures, interview procedures or observation of public behavior, unless: (a) information obtained is recorded in such a manner that human subjects can be identified, directly or through identifiers linked to the subjects; and (b) any disclosure of the human subjects' responses outside the research could reasonably place the subjects at risk of criminal or civil liability or be damaging to the subjects' financial standing, employability, or reputation. If the subjects are children, exemption 2 applies only to research involving educational tests and observations of public behavior when the investigator(s) do not participate in the activities being observed. Exemption 2 does not apply if children are surveyed or interviewed or if the research involves observation of public behavior and the investigator(s) participate in the activities being observed. [Children are defined as persons who have not attained the legal age for consent to treatments or procedures involved in the research, under the applicable law or jurisdiction in which the research will be conducted.]

procedures or observation of public behavior that is not exempt under section (2) above, if the human subjects are elected or appointed public officials or candidates for public office; or federal statute(s) require(s) without exception that the confidentiality of the personally identifiable information will be maintained throughout the research and thereafter.

(4) Research involving the collection or study of existing data, documents, records, pathological specimens, or diagnostic specimens, if these sources are publicly available or if the information is recorded by the investigator in a manner that subjects cannot be identified, directly or through identifiers linked to the subjects.

(5) Research and demonstration projects which are conducted by or subject to the approval of department or agency heads, and which are designed to study, evaluate, or otherwise examine: (a) public benefit or service programs; (b) procedures for obtaining benefits or services under those programs; (c) possible changes in or alternatives to those programs or procedures; or (d) possible changes in methods or levels of payment for benefits or services under those programs.

(6) Taste and food quality evaluation and consumer acceptance studies, (a) if wholesome foods without additives are consumed or (b) if a food is consumed that contains a food ingredient at or below the level and for a use found to be safe, or agricultural chemical or environmental contaminant at or below the level found to be safe, by the Food and Drug Administration or approved by the Environmental Protection Agency or the Food Safety and Inspection Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

II. Instructions for Exempt and Nonexempt Human Subjects Research Narratives

If the applicant marked “Yes” for Item 3 of Department of Education Supplemental Information for SF 424, the applicant must provide a human subjects “exempt research” or “nonexempt research” narrative. Insert the narrative(s) in the space provided. If you have multiple projects and need to provide more than one narrative, be sure to label each set of responses as to the project they address.

A. Exempt Research Narrative.

If you marked “Yes” for item 3 a. and designated exemption numbers(s), provide the “exempt research” narrative. The narrative must contain sufficient information about the involvement of human subjects in the proposed research to allow a determination by ED that the designated exemption(s) are appropriate. The narrative must be succinct.

B. Nonexempt Research Narrative.

If you marked “No” for item 3 a. you must provide the “nonexempt research” narrative. The narrative must address the following seven points. Although no specific page limitation applies to this section of the application, be succinct.

(1) Human Subjects Involvement and Characteristics:

Provide a detailed description of the proposed involvement of human subjects. Describe the characteristics of the subject population, including their anticipated number, age range, and health status. Identify the criteria for inclusion or exclusion of any subpopulation. Explain the rationale for the involvement of special classes of subjects, such as children, children with disabilities, adults with disabilities, persons with mental disabilities, pregnant women, prisoners, institutionalized individuals, or others who are likely to be vulnerable

(2) Sources of Materials: Identify the sources of research material obtained from individually identifiable living human subjects in the form of specimens, records, or data. Indicate whether the material or data will be obtained specifically for research purposes or whether use will be made of existing specimens, records, or data.

(3) Recruitment and Informed Consent: Describe plans for the recruitment of subjects and the consent procedures to be followed. Include the circumstances under which consent will be sought and obtained, who will seek it, the nature of the information to be provided to prospective subjects, and the method of documenting consent. State if the Institutional Review Board (IRB) has authorized a modification or waiver of the elements of consent or the requirement for documentation of consent.

(4) Potential Risks: Describe potential risks (physical, psychological, social, legal, or other) and assess their likelihood and seriousness. Where appropriate, describe alternative treatments and procedures that might be advantageous to the subjects.

(5) Protection Against Risk: Describe the procedures for protecting against or minimizing potential risks, including risks to confidentiality, and assess their likely effectiveness. Where appropriate, discuss provisions for ensuring necessary medical or professional intervention in the event of adverse effects to the subjects. Also, where appropriate, describe the provisions for monitoring the data collected to ensure the safety of the subjects.

(6) Importance of the Knowledge to be Gained: Discuss the importance of the knowledge gained or to be gained as a result of the proposed research. Discuss why the risks to subjects are reasonable in relation to the anticipated benefits to subjects and in relation to the importance of the knowledge that may reasonably be expected to result.

(7) Collaborating Site(s): If research involving human subjects will take place at collaborating site(s) or other performance site(s), name the sites and briefly describe their involvement or role in the research.

Copies of the Department of Education’s Regulations for the Protection of Human Subjects, 34 CFR Part 97 and other pertinent materials on the protection of human subjects in research are available from the Grants Policy and Oversight Staff, Office of the Chief Financial Officer, U.S. Department of Education, Washington, D.C. 20202-4250, telephone: (202) 245-6120, and on the U.S. Department of Education’s Protection of Human Subjects in Research Web Site: <http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/OCFO/humansub.html>

Consequently, we strongly encourage you to review the registration and submission procedures for the designated electronic application system right away. In addition, we strongly suggest that you do not wait until the deadline date to submit your application.

Exception to Electronic Submission Requirement: You qualify for an exception to the electronic submission requirement, and may submit your application in paper format, by mail or hand delivery, if you are unable to submit an application through the electronic application system designated in the Federal Register notice because—

and
- No later than two weeks before the application deadline date (14 calendar days or, if the fourteenth calendar day before the application deadline date falls on a Federal holiday, the next business day following the Federal holiday), you mail or fax a written statement to the Department, explaining which of the two grounds for an exception prevent you from using the Internet to submit your application. If you mail your written statement to the Department, it must be postmarked no later than two weeks before the application deadline date. If you fax your written statement to the Department, we must receive the faxed statement no later than two weeks before the application deadline date. (Please follow the fax instructions found in the Federal Register notice for this competition. Indirect Cost Information:

If you are requesting reimbursement for indirect costs on line 10, this information is to be completed by your Business Office. (1): Indicate whether or not your organization has an Indirect Cost Rate Agreement that was approved by the Federal government. (2): If you checked "yes" in (1), indicate in (2) the beginning and ending dates covered by the Indirect Cost Rate Agreement. In addition, indicate whether ED or another Federal agency (Other) issued the approved agreement. If you check "Other," specify the name of the Federal agency that issued the approved agreement. (3): If you are applying for a grant under a Restricted Rate Program (34 CFR 75.563 or 76.563), indicate whether you are using a restricted indirect cost rate that is included on your approved Indirect Cost Rate Agreement or whether you are using a restricted indirect cost rate that complies with 34 CFR 76.564(c)(2). Note: State or Local government agencies may not use the provision for a restricted indirect cost rate specified in 34 CFR 76.564(c)(2). Check only one response. Leave blank, if this item is not applicable.

Section C - Budget Narrative [Attach separate sheet(s)]
Pay attention to applicable program specific instructions, if attached.

1. Provide an itemized budget breakdown, and justification by project year, for each budget category listed in Sections A and B. For grant projects that will be divided into two or more separately budgeted major activities or sub-projects, show for each budget category of a project year the breakdown of the specific expenses attributable to each sub-project or activity.
2. If applicable to this program, provide the rate and base on which fringe benefits are calculated.
3. If you are requesting reimbursement for indirect costs on line 10, this information is to be completed by your Business Office. Specify the estimated amount of the base to which the indirect cost rate is applied and the total indirect expense. Depending on the grant program to which you are applying and/or your approved Indirect Cost Rate Agreement, some direct cost budget categories in your grant application budget may not be included in the base and multiplied by your indirect cost rate. For example, you must multiply the indirect cost rates of "Training grants" (34 CFR 75.562) and grants under programs with "Supplement not Supplant" requirements ("Restricted Rate" programs) by a "modified total direct cost" (MTDC) base (34 CFR 75.563 or 76.563). Please indicate which costs are included and which costs are excluded from the base to which the indirect cost rate is applied.

When calculating indirect costs (line 10) for "Training grants" or grants under "Restricted Rate" programs, you must refer to the information and examples on ED's website at: <http://www.ed.gov/fund/grant/apply/appforms/appforms.html>. You may also contact (202) 377-3838 for additional information regarding calculating indirect cost rates or general indirect cost rate information.

4. Provide other explanations or comments you deem necessary.
